Auto Workers Demanding
AFL-CIO Reconstruction

By A. F. MAHAN
DETROIT (AP) — Reconstruction of the AFL-CIO was a price set yesterday by the United Auto Workers for its continuance in the federation. It expressed "deep concern the labor movement is vegetating" under George Meany's leadership, and accused the 73-year-old AFL-CIO president of violating constitutional and convention mandates which fail to meet his "personal pleasure."

Declaring there is urgent need "for a vital, vibrant, dynamic, socially progressive labor movement," the UAW outlined an independent program it proposes to pursue outside the AFL-CIO structure.

Its 1.4 million members making up the largest union within the 13.5-million member federation, the UAW said its withdrawal threat is aimed at getting "the American labor movement off dead center."

It stressed what it said was a need for a massive organizing crusade, social action and help for struggling unions.

There was no immediate rejoinder from Meany or other AFL-CIO leaders, who had ignored, publicly at least, the UAW's withdrawal threat since its first was disclosed last week.

In Washington, an AFL-CIO spokesman said there would be no comment on the Auto Workers' demand for "internal reform" until the manifesto containing it is received there; that there would be no comment on press reports of it.

The 26-member UAW International Executive Board last week unanimously ordered the union's 59-year-old president, Walter P. Reuther, and its other three top officers to sever all connections with the ruling AFL-CIO Executive Council.

By DANIEL HARKER
BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Earthquakes rocked Colombia yesterday, killing at least 65 persons, injuring more than 300 and sending thousands in terror to the streets to escape swaying buildings.

Six hours after a pair of mid-morning shocks had showered Bogota streets with glass and rubble, the earth shivered again, restarting panic in the city.

Most of the deaths were reported in an area 200 to 300 miles southwest of the capital. In Bogota itself, principal buildings were damaged and graves were ripped open, authorities said.

A Bogota schoolteacher was credited with saving 40 children from a crumbling school where his wife and mother-in-law were killed by a collapsing wall.

Two morning quakes, which followed each other closely, caused widespread damage in Colombian cities and were felt in neighboring Ecuador and Venezuela.

Authorities repeated calls for calm, fearing that the new tremors would induce Bogota residents to forsake buildings and sleep outdoors. The city, whose metropolitan population is estimated at 1.8 million, is 8,600 feet above sea level on a plateau in the Andes. Temperatures at night fall into the 40s.

At the same time it directed the agenda for an April 20-22 UAW convention be expanded to include a discussion of relationships with the parent AFL-CIO and a proposal that the Executive Board be authorized to take whatever action it deems necessary in this regard.

Action could come first, however, from the AFL-CIO Executive Council. It meets next week in Miami Beach.

KINZUA CONDEMNATION PAYMENT

Jury Indicts Frewsburg Pair
On Government Check Forgery

By STEVE CULLINANE

A Frewsburg man and his mother were indicted yesterday in Pittsburgh for allegedly cashing a check made out to a recently deceased Bradford oilman and farmer.

Charles Haluska Jr. and his mother, Julia Haluska Cole, 54, were indicted by a U.S. district court grand jury for allegedly forging, endorsing and cashing a U.S. government check made out to John Z. Van Tine, a prominent Bradford area oilman and farmer who died recently.

Haluska has been in jail in Mayville, N.Y., since Oct. 10, 1966, on a fugitive from justice warrant. The Pittsburgh indictment concerns a check cashed Sept. 1, 1966.

Wanted in Bradford on charges of grand larceny and forgery, Haluska has been fighting a legal battle to avoid extradition to Pennsylvania.

The check made out to Van Tine was, Associated Press last night reported, in payment of land condemned for the Kinzua Dam project. Van Tine at one time was represented by Warren attorney John H. Stewart in a legal fight to keep his land from being federally condemned.

Haluska's wife June reportedly was arrested several weeks ago in connection with a burglary at Frewsburg American Legion Post. Her case was dismissed.

Haluska's age was given in Pittsburgh as 32, but Chautauque County Sheriff's Department lists him as having been born April 17, 1941.

Bradford city police said last night they have no charges against Haluska's mother nor his wife. It was impossible to learn last night whether Haluska is wanted in Bradford for the same forgery that figures in the Pittsburgh indictment.

Lt. Thomas of the Bradford police did say, however, that to the best of his recollection three checks are involved in the Bradford charges, totaling about $4,500.

On Jan. 30, 1966, a Chautauque County court recognized Bradford's jurisdiction in Haluska's case. Haluska's lawyer is now appealing the decision on the grounds that Haluska was held unjustly in New York for a long period on a detainer warrant.

Haluska was indicted yesterday on one count of forgery, for which he could be penalized $1,000 or 10 years imprisonment. Haluska's mother was indicted on two counts—endorsing a forged check and cashing it—and could receive a penalty of $2,000 or 20 years in jail. The indictment reportedly states that the Van Tine check was cashed at Bradford National Bank Sept. 1, 1966.

Hegerty said that Robert Lloyd Wallace, who lived in a rented room at 63 Mohawk ave., Warren, was found dead after police were called at 6:10 p.m. Wednesday.

The victim, according to Hegerty, who was acting in his capacity as a deputy coroner, had apparently died between 2:30 p.m. and 3 p.m. Sunday.

Hegerty told the Times-Mirror and Observer there is no reason yet to suspect foul play. An autopsy was performed early yesterday by Dr. Donald J. Furman, pathologist at Warren General Hospital, and specimens were forwarded to the FBI Crime Laboratory in Washington, D.C.

The young man was the son of Samuel and Virginia Wallace of Kinzua Heights, McKean County. His father is employed at Sylvania Electric Products, Inc. of Warren.

Wallace was born Oct. 21, 1947, in Warren. He had lived at 63 Mohawk ave. for two weeks. A former resident of Kinzua Heights and Kinzua, he worked in Warren at the Corner Restaurant, 1931 Pennsylvania ave. East. He attended Custer City Methodist Church and the former Kinzua Methodist Church.

Surviving, besides his parents, are a paternal grandmother, Mrs. Fanny Wallace of Weldbank; maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Moore of Knapps Creek, N.Y.; a maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Moore of Bradford; two brothers, Neil and Howard, of Kinzua Heights; two sisters, Mrs. Sarah DiBlasi of Lawtons, N.Y. and Rose Ann Wallace of Warren; and several aunts, uncles and cousins.

Friends may call at Peterson-Blick Funeral Home from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. today. Funeral services will be held there at 1 p.m. tomorrow, with the Rev. Howard Cartwright of Emmanuel Baptist Church, Starbrick, officiating. Burial will be in Willowdale Cemetery, Bradford.

Red Willingness
Must Precede End
To Bombing: Rusk

By JOHN W. FINNEY

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON—Secretary of State Dean Rusk ruled out yesterday any cessation of American bombing of North Vietnam until the Communist side shows a willingness to reduce its military effort in the South.

Rusk accused the Communists of waging "a systematic campaign" to bring about a permanent cessation of American bombing "without any corresponding military action on their side." In emphatic terms he rejected a recent North Vietnamese suggestion that stopping the bombing "could" lead to negotiations.

The U.S., he declared, is not prepared to end the bombing in exchange for some "formless" possibility of talks. Before the U.S. will take such a step, he emphasized, "we must know the military consequences" on the Communist side.

At the same time, Rusk appealed to the Communist side to "let good sense" prevail and to "recognize the necessity for elementary reciprocity."

Rusk outlined a firm administration position on the military terms for negotiations at a televised news conference at the State Department. The news conference was arranged Wednesday at the initiative of the White House in an attempt, according to State Department officials, "to put into perspective" the recent hopeful speculation about the possibility of negotiations in the Vietnam war.

Apparently by design, the news conference came only a few hours after Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin held an internationally televised news conference in London. The Soviet leader once again suggested that the North Vietnamese proposal for a cessation of American bombing offered "a way out" of the present impasse on negotiations.

The administration moved quickly to counter the Soviet leader's suggestion, first with a statement from the White House and then with the Rusk news conference.

President Johnson watched part of the Kosygin news conference on television. After consulting with the State and Defense Departments, the White House issued a statement emphasizing the lack of military reciprocity in the suggestion of the Soviet leader.

"Mr. Kosygin commented on the military action the United States should take but made no mention of the military action the other side should take," presidential press secretary George Christian said, in giving the White House reaction. "It is surprising he did not receive a question on this point, or that if he did receive a question of this type, that he did not deal with it."

In contrast to last year, when the administration indicated a willingness to extend the bombing

Kosygin Warns
America, China

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Alexei N. Kosygin fired off a dual warning last night — to Red China against forcing a diplomatic break with the Soviet Union and to the Americans against continued bombing of North Vietnam.

And for good measure the visiting Soviet leader aimed a broadside at the West Germans: Whether they like it or not a treaty will be signed soon stopping the spread of nuclear weapons.

In a question-and-answer session with 520 newsmen he offered it as his view that the current upheaval inside China stems from "an internal struggle probably under the influence of various setbacks in foreign and defense policies." He spurned a suggestion that it might spark "an armed conflict" between the giant Communist neighbors.

Later, addressing British lawmakers, Kosygin disclosed total disagreement with Prime Minister Harold Wilson in their top-secret talks on the causes of the Vietnam war and ways of ending it. He put all the blame on the Americans. Wilson said it was the fault of the Reds.

The Russian argued that Washington could begin peace talks with Hanoi if the United States stops all military action

Kinzua Heights Man, 19,
Found Dead in Room

Chief Deputy Sheriff Richard E. Hegerty is continuing an investigation into the death of a 19-year-old Kinzua Heights, McKean County, man.

Hegerty said that Robert Lloyd Wallace, who lived in a rented room at 63 Mohawk ave., Warren, was found dead after police were called at 6:10 p.m. Wednesday.

The victim, according to Hegerty, who was acting in his capacity as a deputy coroner, had apparently died between 2:30 p.m. and 3 p.m. Sunday.

Coed Causing College Clash

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Pretty Pam Brewer was a cause celebre on the University of Florida campus yesterday and not just because her 38-25-38 charms were displayed nude in an off-campus humor magazine.

She is the center, not only of a full-length gatefold picture on a white Persian rug, but also of a rising controversy over student rights and university control.

"It could be another Berkeley," said Andy Moor, an editor on the campus newspaper, Alligator.

Stan Laughlin, an associate law professor, agreed. "The whole area of students' relationship to the university has become increasingly sharp in the past few years—the whole idea of individual rights and a rule of law. The students are concerned."

It was the banner of student rights on the University of California campus at Berkeley that started the years of turmoil and focused national attention on the changing university. In Berkeley's case, the movement started in 1964 and a year later crystallized on a specific case as unlikely as a nude picture: the right to use four-letter words.

Pam, who got her parents' permission, posed for the picture knowing that it probably would make her a public figure in more ways than one.

The coed whose uncovered form was displayed in the previous issue was put on probation by the faculty disciplinary committee. An editorial in the magazine said it would challenge any charges made against her.

Pam, an 18-year-old sophomore from Springfield, Va., gets a public hearing before the committee today in the tiny Board of Regents room, which seats only 30.

"I'm afraid there's going to be a mob scene," said Moor. "Thousands of students want to go, but the committee refused to move to a bigger room. Some of the students told me, 'I'm going to get in regardless.'"

The local board of the American Civil Liberties Union examined the picture and decided to enter the case on Pam's behalf. "It's not a suggestive picture," said Laughlin, a member of the board. "She's covered in all the appropriate spots."

The black and white picture, spread across two pages on the inside of the magazine Charlatan, shows Pam lying prone on a rug. Her back is arched enough to display her breasts.

There are eight other pictures of her on adjoining pages. In each, she is fully clothed.

Pam's lawyer, Selig Golden advised her to make no statement.

MEADVILLE—The story of John James Audubon's visit to Meadville in 1824 will be told Monday at a public lecture meeting of Crawford County Historical Society at Meadville Public Library.

Rusk insisted that there had been no shift in the administration's position. But at the same time he said the Communist side has "put this matter into a somewhat different context" by demanding now not a pause in the bombing but "an unconditional and permanent cessation."

In part, the Rusk statement seemed designed to elicit from the Communist side a more explicit response of what military action it would take if the bombing ceased. But in part it seemed designed to scotch speculation that some movement toward peace negotiations had been opened.

Despite continuing diplomatic efforts to arrange negotiations, Rusk said, "unfortunately I cannot report to you today any tangible forward movement in this direction." What is lacking, he said, is "some response" from the other side of "what the military consequences would be if we stopped the bombing."

TET TRUCE VIOLATION

Viet Cong Ambush Airborne Brigade; Casualties Moderate

By BOB GASSAWAY

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)

—A Viet Cong ambush that inflicted moderate casualties on a company of 120 American paratroopers stood out today among a mounting flurry of shooting incidents marring the Tet truce. Each side blamed the other.

Guerrillas in trees and entrenchments opened up with hand grenades, small arms and automatic weapons on a company of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade moving back to its base Wednesday from operations in the War Zone D, jungle north of Saigon, a spokesman said. That touched off a seven-hour fight. The announcement that American casualties were moderate could mean some of the company's squads were hit hard.

Attending the Vietnamese holidays for the lunar new year was an announcement of a net increase of 6,000 men last week in the American armed forces in Vietnam, boosting the total to 410,000.

The U.S. Command said 117 Americans were killed, 920 wounded and 11 missing or captured in action last week. There were 10 deaths from accidents and other nonhostile causes. In all 8,873 Americans have perished in six years of war in Vietnam, 7,246 in combat and 1,627 behind the lines.

Marring U.S. air operations was a Navy plane's flight, officially described as the unintentional result of a navigational error, over Red China's Hainan Island. Apparently hoping to forestall a Peking protest against this violation of Chinese air space, Navy officers in both Saigon and Washington announced the incident.

Allied authorities listed 128 incidents, large or small, through the first 40 hours of the current truce. This compared with 122 for a 48-hour cease-fire last Christmas. The record for the 48-hour New Year's weekend truce was 178.

Against American claims that the Communists were responsible, the Viet Cong declared via a statement broadcast from Hanoi that their forces have "strictly implemented the cease-fire order, but have stood ready to punish any U.S. aggressors who would violate the order." The guerrillas said they killed five Americans in one incident Wednesday in Tay Ninh Province.

Three Sylvania Engineers Presented Patent Awards

Three Sylvania engineers were presented company patent awards at a dinner at the Three Flags Inn last night.

Receiving awards were Wade E. Barre, Thomas E. Gannoe, and Charles D. Seeking. Barre and Gannoe are Warren residents. All three engineers work at the parts division of Sylvania. They were honored last night for U.S. patents awarded last year.

Seekings and Gannoe shared an award for inventing a "one-piece pincurl clip." Barre was honored for his invention of a "positive pressure connector."

Barre joined Sylvania in 1946 as chief draftsman in the Warren engineering department. In 1950 he became a product engineer. In 1953 he was transferred to the Titusville plastic and metal assembly plant, where he supervised manufacturing. In 1955 he returned to Warren to supervise plastics and assembly product engineering.

In 1959 he was transferred to division engineering as a plastics and assembly advance development engineer. In 1964 he became manager of plastics and assembly product development, expanded to include weld and metal base in 1965. A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Wade holds a Bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from Case Institute of Technology. This is his sixth patent award.

He is chairman of the socket and accessories committee of the Electronic Industries Association and chief technical expert of the socket, accessories, and plug-in devices committee for the United States National Committee of the International Electrotechnical Association, in which he has represented this country since 1964.

Gannoe started with Sylvania at the radio tube division in Emproium in 1933. In 1943 he set up what is now the parts division equipment development plant in Warren. He then became general foreman, supervisor of equipment design, division manager of machine shops and division manager of equipment development. He is now manager of metal parts product development. Gannoe is a native of Sheffield. This is his fourth patent award.

Seekings joined Sylvania's plastics engineering department in 1951, where he worked on the design of proprietary plastics-metal products and automatic injection molding. In 1952 he joined the division engineering group.

Kosygin Cites Defensive Anti-Missile Systems

By DANA ADAMS SCHMIDT

(c) N.Y. Times News Service

LONDON — Premier Aleksis N. Kosygin suggested at a news conference yesterday that defensive antiballistic missile systems were less dangerous to mankind than offensive systems, and therefore more desirable, even if they should prove more costly.

While avoiding a direct answer to a question on the subject, he gave no encouragement to hopes for a moratorium on antiballistic missile defense development as a means of limiting the arms race between the great powers.

(In Washington the Defense Department said that the joint chiefs of staff had recommended a heavy protection against missiles for 50 of the nation's largest cities.)

Kosygin's remarks were made at a news conference given by the Foreign Press Association.

United States officials have tentatively sought an understanding with the Soviet Union that would bar a new expensive race in the construction of anti-ballistic missile systems. Washington officials have reported that Moscow has begun installing such systems in some parts of the Soviet Union.

The Soviet leader did say, however, that he foresaw the conclusion "soon" of a treaty to bar the spread of nuclear weapons.

The most important aspect of such a treaty from the Soviet point of view, he made clear, is to keep nuclear weapons out of German hands.

The danger that the Soviet Union was beginning to build an antiballistic missile defense system was reported by President Johnson in his State of the Union message on Jan. 10.

He said that while increasing

Work on the new sixth, seventh and eighth grade school in Southwestern Central School District is running behind schedule. Architects Naezker and Thorsell told the district board Wednesday night that general contractors' work is lagging.

On the Frewsburg-Falconer road, Vac Air Alloys, Inc., is setting up a full-scale plant. The company, formerly located at 620 W. 8th st., Jamestown, will use the former Flake-board Corp. building.

Mayville Board of Education this week accepted the recommendations of five students, three teachers and three parents on how students at Mayville Central School should dress.

Jamestown's Holy Trinity Lutheran Church plans to build a new church school and multi-purpose building.

Chautauqua County doctors who have charged that Chautauqua Lake is dangerously polluted will meet with the County Board of Health Tuesday night.

Profits of the company that owns Marlin Rockwell Division, TRW Inc., in Jamestown, increased last year. Sales, net income, and dividends were the highest in TRW's 66-year history.

2,000 YEARS BEFORE ASPIRIN

Backaches Go W-a-y Back

By JOHN VINOCUR
NEW YORK (AP) — Anxiety beat the white man to the New World and America's oldest civilizations knew acid indigestion, nagging backache and that stuffed-up feeling 2,000 years before aspirin.

The conclusions are drawn from toy soldier-sized, red-clay figures pulled from grave sites in Mexico, Central and South America by a physician-archeologist who has spent much of the last 20 years trying to diagnose the illnesses of his pre-Columbian miniatures.

"These people hurt like us, they suffered the way we do. They were holding their heads and feeling lousy long before any Europeans were around to give them any 'decadent' diseases," said Dr. Abner Weisman.

In an exhibit at the New York Medical College, one figure's mouth twists into a constricted oval, his hands grasp at his throat, his knees press to his chest. "An asthmatic attack," says the physician.

Another sits mournfully, fingers at his temples, arms half-masking his face. "He's a depressive, an anxiety case, it seems," Weisman explains. Nearby are other figures, apparently with goiter, swollen glands, skin lesions, cardiac discomfort and phlebitis.

"I think you can say without any fear of contradiction, that these people had good doctors, quite skilled in their way," Weisman said.

What is not clear is why the sculpture exists at all. It is unlike 95 per cent of the art work of the time which was mainly concerned with religion, celebration or important people, Weisman said. Figures showing diseases don't fit into the rest of the decorative pattern, he believes.

Some archeologists think the medical sculpture was placed in tombs to explain the circumstances of death to the gods, but Weisman considers it more likely that the figures were used for instruction or as diagnostic aides.

"People may very well have come to a medicine man and pointed at one of these figures instead of saying what was wrong," he said. "The reason could have been modesty — there was a similar situation in ancient China — or a language barrier."

A clinical professor of obstetrics and gynecology at New York Medical College, Weisman became interested in archeology while working as a U.S. Public Health Service physician in the Southwest. His collection will be on nationwide tour shortly with a first stop in Miami, Fla.

Powell's Lawyers Building Case for Supreme Court

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — Adam Clayton Powell's fight lawyers are building a case for appeal to the Supreme Court in the event the House of Representatives decides to deny the Manhattan Democrat his seat.

The lawyers declined to be quoted on their plans. They have an agreement among themselves to make no public statements unless they are put into writing and cleared by all of them.

However, a legal source suggested that a careful examination be made of the lawyers' briefs filed with the House Select Committee that is investigating Powell.

1966 Traffic Accidents Set Death Toll Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents in 1966 killed a record 52,500 persons, disabled 1.9 million others and cost the nation $9.3 billion, the National Safety Council reported yesterday.

The 1966 highway death toll was 7 per cent above 1965, when 49,000 were killed.

Howard Pyle, council president, said the increase resulted in part from the fact that the factors contributing to the problem are increasing faster than the efforts being taken to cope with them.

In 1966, 96.1 million vehicles operated by more than 102 million licensed drivers logged 935 billion miles on the nation's roads.

All three figures set records. The council said the economic loss caused by traffic accidents included $3.3 billion lost in auto and property damage and $6.5 billion for medical expenses, overhead cost of insurance and lost wages.

Pyle cited an increase in the number of young, inexperienced drivers, the stubborn refusal of motorists to use safety belts and the vast numbers of cars on the road as the major factors in the rise in auto deaths.

In spite of the bleak 1966 record, Pyle said he is optimistic for a future drop in the nation's accident record.

"Important steps are being taken to increase the safety of all parts of the system — the driver, the vehicle and the roadway — the entire driving environment," he said.

Pyle added that a downward trend in auto fatalities would eventually occur, although he expects more increases in the years just ahead.

"Our hope is that the American public, which must lend its support to every step taken, will recognize that this is a longterm job," he said.

The council also reported that Los Angeles had the lowest death rate of all cities with more than one million population and replaced Chicago as the nation's safest large city.

Los Angeles recorded 3.1 deaths for every 10,000 vehicles while Chicago had 3.2.

Johnson Seeks Record Low Foreign Aid: $3.1 Billion

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson urged an economy-minded Congress yesterday to provide $3.1 billion for economic and military assistance to 70 countries "to reduce the chances of future Vietnams."

Calling this a minimum contribution to the security and development of Asian, African and Latin American countries, the President's foreign aid message said:

"To do less would endanger all we have accomplished in the past two decades."

Anticipating congressional opposition, Johnson acknowledged that some persons want to give up the foreign aid program because of U.S. domestic needs and costs of the Vietnam war.

"Nothing could be more short-sighted and self-defeating," he asserted. "This country—the wealthiest in human history—can well afford to devote less than seven-tenths of 1 per cent of its national income to reduce the chances of future Vietnams."

The presidential request for aid funds came within $18 million of the amount he requested last year when Congress lopped off $450 million and gave the administration $2.9 billion.

For the fiscal year starting July 1, the administration asked for $2.53 billion in economic assistance and $596 million in military assistance excluding Vietnam, Laos, Thailand and some North Atlantic Treaty Organization expenses. White House aides said an additional $242 million is being asked for military assistance to Laos and Thailand and NATO, but this request is being made in the regular Defense Department budget, not in the foreign aid program.

The Congress was asked to approve eight programs over a two-year period instead of on an annual basis. This was bound to spark opposition in both houses of Congress.

There was also strong emphasis on self-help as the major qualification for U.S. economic assistance.

The program also emphasized more cooperation from other countries, along with such institutions as the World Bank, International Monetary Fund, the Asian Development Bank, the Inter-American Development Bank and the African Development Bank.

In the Far East, the message said that Vietnam, Thailand and Laos would receive $650 million of the $812 million requested for economic aid. And Vietnam would be allocated $550 million of this.

SHAFFER PROMISES

Backs Reasonable Compromise For Constitution Convention

By WILLIAM E. DEIBLER

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer said yesterday he would agree to any reasonable compromise that would get his administration's proposal for a limited constitutional convention through the legislature in time to appear on the May primary ballot.

Specifically, the governor said at his weekly news conference that he would agree to a Democratic demand that there be a change in his bill's language directing the convention to draft a flat ban against enactment of a graduated income tax for the state.

"If that change would be the one to pass it in the legislature, then I would not be opposed to it," Shafer said. "I don't think that particular item should be a bar to a constitutional convention."

Democratic leaders have said they would agree to a stipulation that the language of taxation provisions of the present Constitution be retained, but they object strongly to Shafer's flat directive.

The state Supreme Court has ruled several times that the language of the present Constitution prohibits imposition of a graduated income tax.

Shafer also said that he would not oppose the election of convention delegates on a partisan basis, rather than non-partisan as his bill proposes.

The governor admitted that eight constitutional amendments already approved with bipartisan support run the risk of being rejected if the constitutional convention referendum is defeated in the May primary.

However, he said his Republican Administration felt "the assets of having the convention referendum on the ballot as quickly as possible surmounted the disadvantages to the other amendments."

The eight amendments — seven new articles to the Constitution and a $500 million conservation bond issue — are to appear on the May ballot.

The governor was asked to clarify his position on a proposed amendment to reform the minor judiciary.

"We do need reform in the judiciary article," he said. "I favor the abolition of the Philadelphia magistrates system, since the district attorney's investigation there found it to be a source of fraud and corruption."

"I do not favor abolition of the justices of the peace, however, because their problems in the other 66 counties are different than they are in Philadelphia."

"I do think, however, that we need to reduce the number and also eliminate the fee system which seems to be one of the major problems in this area."

On other subjects: Highways — In a prepared statement, Shafer said he was pleased with the unanimous opinion of the state's congressional delegation that the Johnson Administration's decision to reduce federal highway funds "should be reduced as soon as possible."

He said $97 million would be withheld from the state by the federal economy move.

Milk — The governor said he did not believe the state Milk Control Commission should have increased consumer prices last year. He added he was "very pleased" that the commission had complied with a Commonwealth Court order and reduced prices in the Pittsburgh area this week.

compelled to send virtually all equipment and personnel by sea and run the risk of incidents with United States naval vessels patrolling the coast of North Vietnam.

In the view of some observers here, the Soviet Union could try to organize flights across North Korea and the Yellow Sea, edging between the China mainland and Taiwan and swinging around the island of Hainan to North Vietnam. But such flights, covering a distance of some 2,500 miles, would be hazardous without emergency landing facilities.

Moscow hinted that its aid commitment to North Vietnam's war struggle was the primary reason it was enduring Chinese insults and harassment and maintaining gravely strained diplomatic relations with Peking.

The hint was contained in Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper.

The paper condemned the Chinese warning to the diplomats this week that it was unsafe for them to leave the embassy compound. It reported that East European diplomats, who had been taking food to the beleaguered Russians, also had been warned that it was dangerous for them to visit the Soviet embassy.

Although much Soviet aid to North Vietnam is delivered by sea, most has been moving through China by train. Soviet aircraft also have been flying advisers to Hanoi over China.

Moscow complained last week that crowds of jeering Chinese at Peking's airport had hampered and endangered Soviet transport planes that had landed there to refuel.

If the Chinese have halted the shipments of Soviet aid by rail and air, the Russians would be

Church Squabble Again Reaches High Ohio Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Counsel for Milan Raparta and 19 others argued in the Ohio Supreme Court yesterday that their clients are properly elected officers of St. Sava Serbian Orthodox Church in Parma, a Cleveland suburb.

They asked the high court to lift an injunction preventing all 20 from holding church offices to which they declared themselves elected at a meeting Feb. 23, 1964.

Judges took the case under study without indicating when they would hand down a ruling.

Affirming Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court, an appellate court said the Feb. 23 meeting was invalid and held that President Tom Simich and other officers elected at an earlier meeting could serve until successors were named.

The appeal was the second involving the church to reach the supreme court. Judges last October refused to review lower court decisions invalidating action at a 1962 church meeting to require $500 building fund contributions by members.

By What Right?

An Associated Press news release reports, "A presidential advisory committee believes there is too much sex in automobile advertising." It also finds fault with other fields of merchandising and offers a long list of recommendations including new legislation, tightening of present laws and plans for educating the public to avoid, what it considers, unscrupulous or confusing merchandising.

The committee was composed of 12 members. It would be interesting to know by what right 12 people out of a total population of nearly 200 million in the United States should be permitted to judge whether pretty girls are to be utilized in advertising copy. When an official government committee presumes to pass judgment on matters that involve the tastes and likes of consumers, it is but a short step to censorship of press and speech.

And besides--what's wrong with pretty girls?

Diplomatic Parking Crisis

WASHINGTON—While everyone is worried over the proliferation of nuclear weapons and the effects of anti-missiles, no one seems to be paying attention to an explosive situation that could easily start a world conflagration without our realizing it. And that is the towing away of diplomatic cars in New York City.

Mayor John Lindsay said yesterday when, in his attempt to clear up New York City's traffic mess, he ordered that the cars belonging to diplomats to the United Nations be treated like any other cars. If they were parked illegally they were to be towed off to the city's automobile pound, inconveniently located on the west side of town.

The repercussions from this action have been felt from Moscow to Saudi Arabia, and U.N. delegates have threatened reciprocal action which could lead to a worldwide towing war from which no country could recover. The key provision of the U.N. charter is that parking space must be provided for every diplomat in the world, regardless of race, creed or color. And diplomatic immunity must be extended to include not only diplomats and their families but their automobiles as well.

Intelligence reports indicate that Mayor Lindsay's action has caused every nation to re-evaluate its parking conditions vis-a-vis the United States.

The Soviet Union is said to be building a 4-ton tow-truck that could tow away three American cars at the same time. Secretary of Defense McNamara may ask for money to develop an anti-tow-truck device as an answer to the Russian threat. Both Great Britain and West Germany are sending delegations to the United States to demand that they be given American tow-trucks with nuclear warheads. The United States will have to agree, provided the trucks are manned by American drivers on the west side of town.

President de Gaulle is talking about building a mini-tow-truck which will be an independent deterrent to American-made cars. He has already ordered "no parking" signs to be put up around the American Embassy and at his next press conference he will attack President Johnson's parking policies in Vietnam.

But the big fear in diplomatic circles is that the smaller nations will use the towing away of diplomatic cars as an excuse to attack their enemies. Syria has warned Jordan that it would fire on any car double-parked on its border. Israel has already claimed that Egypt is secretly installing German-made parking meters in the Gaza Strip, and Pakistan has warned India that it will fight to keep its parking privileges in the Vale of Kashmir.

Something has to be done before the situation gets completely out of hand. One proposal suggested is that a summit meeting be held in Geneva for the purposes of drawing up an anticar-towing pact among the major powers. It would provide for protection against diplomatic cars being towed away, as well as limit the stocking and size of tow-trucks.

Unfortunately, when the conference was suggested, Geneva turned it down cold by saying, "We don't have the parking facilities to hold such a meeting with so many diplomatic cars." Copyright (c) 1967, The Washington Post Co. Distributed by Los Angeles Times Syndicate.

He said China "needed" a settlement but there were "difficulties" I couldn't understand. After the Korean truce, at the 1954 Berlin meeting of foreign ministers, Mir, happily recalling his talk with the American diplomat, suggested similar discussions on "present problems." I observed it would be helpful if Moscow told Peking to cease sending arms to Indochina where Ho Chi Minh's forces were fighting France.

He said Russia could not tell people of other countries what to do nor order them to cease fighting for independence. I replied that a basic fact remained: if China stopped sending arms, a solution could probably be found in Indochina. Mir replied: "Maybe such things can be arranged."

Again he intimated that bilateral Soviet-American negotiations were desirable and Moscow thought a starting point might be an agreement not to use nuclear weapons in case of war. I remarked we had obligations to our allies that made it difficult to contemplate bilateral talks; since this was evident, I suspected Moscow was simply trying to divide the West and split off France and Britain from the United States.

He answered: "You mean—to drive you into isolationism?" "Precisely," I said.

He continued: "Well, one must always have alternatives. If our negotiations with you do not succeed, naturally we must seek alternative policies."

It is interesting to discern certain threads running through Mir's observations which are still with us today: Difficulties between Moscow and Peking; Indochina; Soviet efforts either to promote direct negotiations with the U.S. or, as an alternative, to split away our principal allies.

But there are fundamental differences now. Soviet "difficulties" with China have exploded. The U.S., not France, is fighting Ho Chi Minh, on a different basis and in a different way. Russia, not China, has become his main supplier of arms.

Therefore, were Moscow to self to choke off the flow of war material to North Vietnam it might become feasible for Washington to reduce the intensity of its attacks there. This formula would infuriate Peking but, for that reason if for no other, may commend itself to both super powers. Such bilateral approaches could indeed lead further down the road Mir wanted to explore.

When he is old enough, he expects to go into military service. "It's my job," he says, "just like the others." He has a special girl, but he has no time to date her. At school, he glances at her when she's not looking. "Once," he said softly, "she sat next to me in biology. Boy, that was something..."

needed oxygen to a strikebound local hospital. Striking in hospitals is bad enough, but stopping delivery of supplies that are needed to prevent people from dying is the same as pronouncing a death sentence on individuals who need the life saving properties of oxygen—persons with respiratory diseases, premature babies, surgery and transfusion cases where minutes count.

Individuals have a right to quit work if they feel obliged to, but in a free country, they have little or no right to interfere with others who want to work.

There is little excuse for fighting wars to protect freedom in other lands if the basic right to work is not protected in our own land. Indignation at such disregard of the public welfare by unions, as shown in the Youngstown case, will force Congress to take remedial action. It must recognize the right to strike and also the right to quit work. But, it must also recognize the right of others to work unmolested and free from intimidation by pickets. Otherwise, let's not talk about a free country.

After the Korean truce, at the 1954 Berlin meeting of foreign ministers, Mir, happily recalling his talk with the American diplomat, suggested similar discussions on "present problems." I observed it would be helpful if Moscow told Peking to cease sending arms to Indochina where Ho Chi Minh's forces were fighting France.

He said Russia could not tell people of other countries what to do nor order them to cease fighting for independence. I replied that a basic fact remained: if China stopped sending arms, a solution could probably be found in Indochina. Mir replied: "Maybe such things can be arranged."

Again he intimated that bilateral Soviet-American negotiations were desirable and Moscow thought a starting point might be an agreement not to use nuclear weapons in case of war. I remarked we had obligations to our allies that made it difficult to contemplate bilateral talks; since this was evident, I suspected Moscow was simply trying to divide the West and split off France and Britain from the United States.

He answered: "You mean—to drive you into isolationism?" "Precisely," I said.

He continued: "Well, one must always have alternatives. If our negotiations with you do not succeed, naturally we must seek alternative policies."

It is interesting to discern certain threads running through Mir's observations which are still with us today: Difficulties between Moscow and Peking; Indochina; Soviet efforts either to promote direct negotiations with the U.S. or, as an alternative, to split away our principal allies.

But there are fundamental differences now. Soviet "difficulties" with China have exploded. The U.S., not France, is fighting Ho Chi Minh, on a different basis and in a different way. Russia, not China, has become his main supplier of arms.

Therefore, were Moscow to self to choke off the flow of war material to North Vietnam it might become feasible for Washington to reduce the intensity of its attacks there. This formula would infuriate Peking but, for that reason if for no other, may commend itself to both super powers. Such bilateral approaches could indeed lead further down the road Mir wanted to explore.

When he is old enough, he expects to go into military service. "It's my job," he says, "just like the others." He has a special girl, but he has no time to date her. At school, he glances at her when she's not looking. "Once," he said softly, "she sat next to me in biology. Boy, that was something..."

The Persistent Thread

(c) N.Y. Times News Service PARIS—Soviet concern with Communist China is not new; it has only heightened over the years as China became both stronger and more irascible. Indeed, despite vagaries and zigzags of Russian policy during Stalin's later period and also under his successors, one finds in it traces of the same Chinese thread.

In early 1950, when Stalin was still alive, an important Russian whom I shall call Mir because that is not his name, suggested to me (five months before the Korean War) that Washington and Moscow should jointly elaborate some kind of Chinese outlook. He added: "Russia alone cannot handle the problem of China. It is a 30-year task for America and Russia together."

That December, when the Korean conflict was roaring, Mir let it be known that Moscow was not worried about Korea escalating into global war but added that America had "stupidly made a great present to Russia, the Chinese market." Nevertheless, he conceded it would take many years to satisfy China's economic needs and again argued it would be "a good plan" to work together on this.

Twelve months later I arranged a meeting between Mir and an important U.S. diplomat who had prior State Department authorization. At this meeting the Russian confided that Moscow was not getting on well with Peking and the economic burden of aiding China was immense.

Mir told the American Moscow wanted general talks with Washington. This provoked the sharp response that we were then fighting Communist aggressors in Korea. In answer to Mir's inquiries, the American indicated nothing could be done about any cease-fire south of the 38th Parallel, the original partition boundary.

Mir communicated to me in August, 1951 that Jacob Malik, Soviet envoy to the U.N., had deliberately sought to convey Moscow's interest in a 38th Parallel settlement but Russia could not force China to agree. He added: "That is not so simple. It is not a question of (Foreign Minister) Vyshinsky picking up the telephone, calling Peking and telling them."

He said China "needed" a settlement but there were "difficulties" I couldn't understand. After the Korean truce, at the 1954 Berlin meeting of foreign ministers, Mir, happily recalling his talk with the American diplomat, suggested similar discussions on "present problems." I observed it would be helpful if Moscow told Peking to cease sending arms to Indochina where Ho Chi Minh's forces were fighting France.

RFK's Peace Signal Old Hat

WASHINGTON—The unanimous denials from all sides didn't give the true story of the mysterious Vietnam peace signal that Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., was reported to have picked up last week in Paris.

It is significant that, before the Senator got around to denying he had received any peace message, his office had told reporters he would have no comments on it until he had conferred with Washington authorities. Not until he had talked it over with President Johnson did Kennedy deny that he had brought home a message from Hanoi.

Actually, the peace hint was picked up by government radio monitors before any foreign sources could deliver it. It came in the form of an interview given by North Vietnamese Foreign Minister Nguyen Duy Trinh to Communist newsmen Wilfred Burchett.

The interview emphasized that suspension of the bombing of North Vietnam could lead to truce talks. A full report of the interview was placed on the President's desk on January 26. He ordered an immediate and thorough check as to whether this meant Hanoi had relaxed its conditions for starting negotiations.

The Canadians, Indians and Poles who sit on the International Control Commission were sounded out. Other governments with contacts in Hanoi were queried. The Vatican was asked whether it had received any new peace offers.

None of the responses contained the slightest indication that the Hanoi government had changed its terms. On January 31 a message from Paris advised that Mai Van Bo, North Vietnam's chief representative in the French capital, had promised that a halt in the bombing "would be worth something."

Other foreign capitals had relayed substantially the same message—namely, that a bombing halt would be interpreted in Hanoi as a goodwill gesture. Since there was nothing new in this, U.S. policy makers concluded that North Vietnam was merely intensifying its campaign to stop the bombing without offering any concessions in return.

The peace signal had been carefully double-checked and double-analyzed before it was picked up belatedly by Sen. Kennedy in Paris. He was told by French officials on February 4 what they had already passed on to the American Embassy on January 31.

In any case, the State Department has become highly skeptical of French peace messages, which in the past have been capricious. Our policymakers had good reason to suspect that the French were merely playing games with us.

When Kennedy arrived at the White House with his belated word from Paris, President Johnson showed him the memos describing how carefully the peace message already had been checked out. Satisfied, the Senator simply chose to deny to the press that he had ever received a message in the first place.

Note—Some top officials believe we should respond to Hanoi's peace hint without any advance guarantees. The chance of achieving peace, they argue, would be worth going more than halfway. Others contend that Hanoi merely wants a respite from the bombing in order to build up for a later offensive.

Behind the sudden departure of the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt from South Africa was an outraged howl from Illinois' 80-year-old Bill Dawson, dean of Negro Congressmen. When he learned that the carrier was scheduled to stop at Cape Town and to abide by South Africa's race laws, Dawson phoned Secretary of the Navy Paul Nitz in high dudgeon.

The secretary tried to explain the careful arrangements that had been made for the visit, but Dawson wouldn't listen. Nitz hurried up to Capitol Hill to elaborate on his explanation face to face. But the old Negro leader, a power in the House, insisted that the Navy should not tolerate discrimination against the carrier's 400 Negro crewmen.

Outraged, Nitz radioed orders to the Roosevelt canceling all shore leaves and directing the carrier to leave Cape Town.

Here are excerpts from the storm of protests received by this column over the administration of the new Medicare program:

E. GEORGE SIEDLE, Lancaster, Pa.—"Inter-County Hospitalization Plan Inc. in Pennsylvania has brazenly used Medicare to cold-bloodedly unload those who have reached 65 regardless of how long their membership or how good their health record. Only after top-side pressure protests did they consent to continue policies, and even then they imposed the new condition that no payment would be made if the subscriber received Medicare aid. Like many others I have long carried dual protection. Many others are now confronted with the bleak possibility of no longer being able through insurance to guard against having their meager resources wiped out and replaced by debt in the event of illness."

CHARLES H. ELLIOTT, Florida—"My premium before Medicare was $15 a month for the two of us, now it is $11 for Blue Cross and Shield and $6 for Medicare, a total of $17 a month. For practically no protection, only the $40 entrance fee. Seems like the senior citizens of Florida have been taken for a ride."

JOHN DELANDOS, Arlington, Va.—"Before Medicare I was paying $18.89 a month for four persons. Now I am paying $19.89 for three persons and only 40 per cent coverage for me."

During the past week, to illustrate, the Governor's Office was busy issuing tones announcing the amount of state aid grants to local libraries along the vein: "Governor Raymond P. Shafer announced..."

For example the "Governor" announced to the people of Bangor that the public library there will receive $1442, the Milford Library $1875, etc., etc. Why the State Library itself couldn't announce these picaresque items rather than His Excellency is somewhat of a mystery. Unless, of course, the new Governor is off and running on an early praise-me boom, which seemingly would be indicated on the basis of this fluff.

"Pressure press agency personified for propaganda not news purposes" is the way one legislative leader on the Democratic side summed it up -- which could be sour grapes, or hitting the nail on the head!

(Who knows -- perhaps Mr. Shafer will announce the approval by the Department of Highways of the installation of a "stop" sign in the village of Paradise down in Lancaster County.)

State Police "Safety Tip" Remember, at 60 miles per hour, under good conditions, it still takes approximately 23 car lengths to stop, more than five times the distance between the pitcher's mound and home plate.

OVERDOING IT A BIT -- A Governor naturally is expected to know what is going on within his own state -- but apparently newly inducted Governor Shafer knows down to the smallest detail (or at least that is the impression his office is determined to implant).

'Big Brother' Rehearsal

On Friday, March 31, 120,000 households in New Haven, Conn., and 10 surrounding towns will take part in a major "rehearsal" for the next national nose count in 1970.

These families and individuals will receive trial questionnaires by mail from the U.S. Census Bureau, to be filled out and returned by "Census Day" on April 5. For most of the households, there will be only 14 questions to answer, essentially the same questions which appeared on the 1960 Census: e.g., your name, sex, color, age, number of rooms in your house, what kind of heat, rental vs. ownership, etc. But one in four of the New Haven households, some 30,000 will be required to answer a record 118 questions, many of them brand new. Among the new questions on the long form: What is your Social Security number?

What were you doing five years ago--working? military service? keeping house? attending school? something else?

Did you earn a college degree, and if so in what field?

Did you complete a vocational, business or technical training program?

Are such items as heat, electricity, air conditioning and a swimming pool included in the rent you pay?

Does your home have a garbage disposal unit? a color TV set? a dishwasher?

These questions will be in addition to dozens more on your income, job, marital status, place of work, etc.

To many of you, next month's test census will seem an unprecedented invasion of privacy, even though your answers are, by law, confidential and may not be given over to other government agencies. For many the questionnaire will require as much homework as an income tax return. Millions of you surely also will shudder to learn that, in preparation for the 1970 Census, your addresses will be computer coded by state, county, city or town, congressional district, postal zip code, even by city block.

In the next census, detailed data will be collected for a total of 1,600,000 individual city blocks the nation over, about double 1960's 750,000. In 1970, the number of items of information to be gathered about our jobs, our homes and ourselves also will soar from the last census's 3 billion.

So detailed will the next census be that an individual city will be able to find out, for example, how many substandard homes there are in each fire district, how many children between the ages of 5 and 12 live within 10 blocks of a proposed day care center or how many elderly citizens there are within 10 blocks of a proposed recreation center.

Road planners will be able to learn, in greater detail than ever before, about traffic flows between your home and job. Businesses will be able to find out, more precisely than ever before, where the markets for their products are.

You well may be among those who fear that "Big Brother" will, through the next census, learn too much about you, if so, keep in mind that it is NOT the Federal Government which is calling loud-est for more information.

Rather, those demanding the "invasion" are your community, state and local governments, educators and planners, both public and private, and businessmen. For the key fact is that the census today is one of the nation's most vital economic tools for planning the public services you, as a citizen, demand and for providing the information needed to offer you, as a consumer, the goods you want.

The Route of a Winner

By FRANK TARKENTON
STAR QUARTERBACK OF THE MINNESOTA VIKINGS

Whenever some sports fan asks me how you get to be a success my instinct is to reply, "In football, today's success will be tomorrow's failure." I think this is true in life too.

For it is literally true that your great triumph one week will turn to humiliating defeat the next. Also, when 250-pound tackles knock you to the ground a dozen times in an afternoon you come to know a lot about humility.

Actually, I have learned a few things from my five years as a quarterback on the Minnesota Vikings. I think I can point to three guideposts along what I call the "route of a winner."

First, carry the image of victory in your heart. In our society today we seem to go to extremes. For a while there was an overwhelming emphasis on the importance of winning. It went all the way down to the smallest kiddie leagues.

Then a reaction set in. "We're not being realistic," parents would say. "Our children must learn how to lose, for aren't defeats a part of life?"

Quite true. Winning can be oversteered. We need to know how to lose gracefully. But kids who think too much about being good losers forget that the purpose of sports, and life, too, is to succeed at what they are doing. For I know this to be true: you show me a good loser and I will show you—a loser.

Once a person has succeeded at something he should carry this victory in his heart.

In 1961 the Minnesota Vikings made their debut in the National Football League. Everyone figured we would get clobbered—a new team with a new coach and a new, untired quarterback.

That last deficit was me. Our first game was with the Chicago Bears and I was never more scared in my entire life.

Early in the game, however, I connected for a touchdown pass—and then another, and another. Before we knew it, we were way out in front and we went on to win 37-13. I threw four touchdown passes and ran for another. Twenty-one years old and straight out of the University of Georgia campus; this was the biggest thrill of my life.

I hoped to recapture this thrill during the next week's game, but we lost. The following week I did even worse. We lost again and again.

It was depressing and discouraging. The coach benched me. I played only part-time. My wife and I began talking about what I would do if I failed in pro football.

Yet, still—down in the deep reaches of my heart—I carried the image of that first big victory. I knew what excellence felt like. And I did not give up on the idea that I could recapture that success.

Many games later I did. But without this image of victory to sustain me over so many defeats I could well have quit.

Second, you have to stick your neck out. Everywhere I go today I hear people expressing their fears. They worry about what the boss will say or what their children will do or whether we will get in an all-out war. Fear causes people to draw back from situations; it brings on mediocrity; it dulls creativity; it sets one up to be a loser in life.

I think the best answer to fear is to stick your neck out. To risk yourself in an effort to win that victory, make that big sale, win the girl of your dreams.

When I first became a pro quarterback I was told that there was one essential rule; the quarterback was to stay behind the protection of his big blocking backs. If he moved away from this pocket of protection he faced being mowed down and injured by charging tackles weighing from 250-300 pounds.

It is a good rule, but sometimes you can't find a target to throw at from your area of protection.

One day I broke from the pocket, dodged tacklers, found an open and threw to him for a touchdown. I had taken a risk. The coach was happy about the touchdown, but not about the way I had done it. Still, he agreed to let me go on doing it if it worked most of the time.

As a result, if I have won recognition for any one football maneuver, it is for being what they call "a scrambler."

Scrambling is risky. I do it only in an emergency. Someday I may get hurt doing it. But if there's a chance of it working, I'll go on sticking my neck out.

Let faith and prayer be the power for your life. Some people right away are going to say that this third guidepost has nothing to do with football—or that you should not use God as a means of achieving success.

These people miss the point. What we believe about God has a lot to do with what kind of persons we are and, therefore, what we do with our lives.

Sometimes I wonder how I could ever get along if I didn't have a Master to pray to. Prayer is a part of my mental conditioning every day, whether I am going down to the field to practice or giving a talk to a youth group or planning some business contacts for the advertising agency where I work in the off season or getting ready for a big game against the Green Bay Packers.

I thank Him for the freedom of choice He gave me (to follow Him or not as I wish).

I thank Him for the joy of competition in a sport I love. I ask for help with matters of doubt in connection with certain puzzling principles of faith.

I pray for my family. I seek through prayer ways I can serve Him.

My father is a minister and I have always been in and about the church, yet I had never felt that my life had any real direction or power until August, 1958, when I made a complete and all-out dedication of my life to Jesus Christ.

This took place at a conference at Estes Park, Colorado, sponsored by the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Until that conference my faith had largely been something I had inherited. The confrontation with Christ made it alive, personal, powerful. There is quite a difference between a faith you accept from others and a faith you reach out for yourself.

Year of Yang Confusing Many

NEW YORK (AP) — The new Chinese new year is upon us, and while there is no confusion as to its number — 4665 — there is some confusion as to its name.

Is it the Year of the Sheep, or the Year of the Ram, or the Year of the Goat, or the Year of the Lamb?

Actually, all are correct, according to T. K. Tong, director of the library of the East Asian Institute at Columbia University.

"It is the Year of Yang," Tong said, "which can be loosely translated as any member of the sheep family."

Florida Re-Election Ordered

By MARTIN WALDRON
(c) N.Y. Times News Service
MIAMI — A court-ordered re-election of the Florida legislature will give the state's new Republican Gov. Claude R. Kirk Jr., a chance to assess public reaction to his private police force.

Kirk has hired a large private detective agency to "drive crime out of Florida." There has been much public criticism of using a private corporation, answerable only to the governor, to perform police duties.

The court order also may enable President Johnson to find out if his administration has recovered any e-team in Florida since last November, when Republicans won their biggest victory in the state in almost 100 years. Kirk and 37 Republican legislators were elected in November in what was generally considered to be a reaction against Johnson.

The re-election of the state legislature was ordered Wednesday by a three-judge Federal District Court as the consequence of a decision last month by the Supreme Court that the Florida legislature was malapportioned.

Russians Swarm Red Chinese Embassy in Hostility Show

By JOHN WEYLAND
MOSCOW (AP) — Thousands of jeering Russians swarmed around Chinese diplomats yesterday in Moscow's biggest and wildest show of anti-Peking hostility. Many threw snowballs and garbage at the Chinese.

A crowd broke through police lines at Moscow's Yaroslav railway station and surrounded a car and two buses from the Chinese Embassy.

Chinese diplomats were trying to leave after seeing off another group of students being sent home from study abroad.

to take part in Mao Tse-tung's "great cultural revolution." Russian authorities earlier accused Peking of trying to drive this country to a break in diplomatic relations.

A Soviet source said the Russians might close their embassy in Peking, under siege for 14 days by riotous Red Guards, but emphasized this would not mean a break in relations. Instead, the Russians would leave in the hope of returning when conditions are better.

The new ugly mood in feeling toward the Chinese was evident at the railway station even before the trouble started.

Thousands of whistling and shouting Russians were jammed behind policemen standing shoulder to shoulder to keep them off the platform for the Moscow-Peking express. Another crowd was gathered in front of the station around a statue of Lenin.

Soviet delegations showed up for the fourth straight day at the Chinese Embassy to present protests over anti-Soviet actions in Peking. The Chinese kept the doors locked, as they have from the start.

Chinese New Year Begins Amid Maoist Austerity

By KAY TATEISHI
TOKYO (AP) — The usually joyous lunar new year holiday in China began yesterday in austerity imposed by Mao Tse-tung amid reports his backers were in trouble in some eastern and central provinces.

Desertion of soldiers in Anhwei was disclosed by a radio broadcast from Hefei, capital of that eastern Chinese province.

Next door in Hupeh Province of central China, the Wuhan radio called on Maoists to "utterly destroy the Black Hupeh Provincial party committee and the Black Wuhan Municipal party committee and seize all their powers."

An article in Peking's official People's Daily indicated Maoists may have been captured after they had left Tsingtao to seize the Shantung provincial capital of Tsinan, said to be held by Mao's foes, Shantung is in east China.

The three-day lunar new year has been an important annual festival in China, but Mao, the party chairman, banned any observance as part of the austerity he wants to impose on China under his "proletarian cultural revolution."

Since millions of people normally make pilgrimages to their ancestral homes and graves during the holiday, Mao also probably feared a greater disruption in farm and factory work.

While some children in Peking touched off the traditional firecrackers, Red Guards, workers and students celebrated the lunar year by continuing their noisy demonstrations outside the Soviet Embassy, Japanese press reports said.

The demonstrations were touched off by a skirmish between Russian and Chinese students in Moscow's Red Square.

Automakers Assure Compliance

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
DETROIT — The United States auto industry will be able to comply with initial federal safety standards in all its 1968 models, the president of the Chrysler Corp. stated yesterday.

This assurance by Virgil E. Boyd, the Chrysler president, was the first formal reaction by an industry leader to the 20 interim standards aimed at avoiding auto accidents and injuries that the National Traffic Safety Agency issued Jan. 31.

Boyd's remarks were part of a speech prepared for delivery in Alliance, Neb., last night. "A number of requirements in the standards are going to cause us some headaches and some overtime as we make last minute design changes to reach the new performance levels," Boyd said. "We are also requesting formal reconsideration of some few technical requirements in the standards. But we are sure that in a spirit of cooperation these issues can be resolved."

The Chrysler president pledged the automobile industry to collaboration with government safety officials and pleaded for "sufficient lead time to do our job right." Lead time is the period of several months that the auto industry says it needs for the signing, testing and tooling to adopt construction changes.

When the initial federal standards for 1968 cars were issued last week the auto industry said it wanted to study them in detail before commenting. The Chrysler president's remarks were taken as proof that this examination had convinced the four principal car manufacturers they could meet the standards.

The federal government dropped three of 23 original proposals for 1968 safety standards, and modified some of the remaining 20 in accordance with industry objections.

No, you're not seeing double, it's just John Zawacki practicing his high jumping. Really you're getting two pictures in the space of one. It all happened when our photographer ran short of film. He took the first picture, and as he advanced the film it came to the end of the roll and he actually got only half a picture. Zawacki is a member of the Warren Area High School Track team. He competes in most of the jumping events. (Photo by Beyer)

EOC Posts Win Over Bradford

Warren Campus of Edinboro State College pulled their record to within one game of the 500 mark last night as they tripped the Bradford Campus of the University of Pittsburgh at the Warren Area High School gym by a 97-70 score.

In the first game of the year for the charges of Andy Randas, the Bradford crew posted a 74-62 decision on the Bradford floor.

The Warren unit had a three-pronged attack led by Eric Jones, Rick Moore and Paul Johnston.

Track Too Bad, Event Called Off

By PIERO DE GUARZAROLLI

ALPHE D'HUEZ, France (AP)

—The 1967 world four-man bobsled championships, scheduled this weekend, were canceled yesterday because of dangerous conditions on the track.

The action came after two bobsers were injured in Wednesday's two-man championships. The course was closed because of unsafe conditions during a practice run Thursday and team members from seven nations were in near revolt.

Cancellation "was the only thing left to do after most of the bobsers of the seven countries entered in the event claimed they were against racing on a track they judged unsafe," said Rene Jacob, a French member of the organizing committee.

The decision means that the controversial Col du Pourtau ice course will have to be rebuilt entirely for next year's winter Olympic Games, Jacob said.

Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the International Olympic Committee, made a quick trip to the winter resort from nearby Grenoble, and said changes would have to be made in the course before the 1968 Games.

"I am not going as far as to say that it was a mistake to select this site for the bobs races because the Alpe d'Huez is too sunny," Brundage said.

"There are difficulties in all new things, I understand the track will be redone in part and shaded more properly from the sun to assure a uniform ice coat."

The track has been the focal point of a bitter dispute since it was built a month ago. Originally planned as a 1,500-meter course with 14 curves, its racing distance had been reduced to 1,000 meters because the upper portion appeared unfit to carry the weight of the sleds and because of the thinness of the ice coating.

An unseasonal spell of warm temperatures compounded the problems by melting the ice as fast as it was put on the concrete structure.

And competitors claimed the chute was full of construction mistakes, saying the bends were badly arranged and dangerous.

Practice runs had been scheduled yesterday but only one sled made the descent, and it almost overturned on the next-to-last turn, where two accidents occurred in the two-man event Wednesday.

Italy's defending champions Eugenio Monti and Sergio Siorpaes and an English sled capsized on the tricky turn Wednesday, costing Monti a chance for a 10th world title.

He suffered minor bruises and Siorpaes a broken left arm. The Britons escaped unhurt in the event won by Austria's Erwin Thaler and Reinhold Durenthal.

Sixteen teams from seven nations were scheduled to compete. Sleds were entered from the United States, Italy, Austria, France, Romania, Switzerland and West Germany.

Jones scored 22 points and, according to Randas, must have had a half dozen assists. Jones also had a perfect 6-6 night at the foul line.

Rick Moore hit consistently on jump shots. He hit just about everything he threw at the basket. Moore ended the game with 18 points.

Johnston tallied 31 points on 14 field goals and three foul points. In the first half, before running into foul trouble, he collected 18 points on nine fielders. Johnston sat out about 12 minutes of the game.

Warren played without the services of Gary Holcomb and Chuck Gallagher. Neither man suited up for the game because of injuries.

Randas said that Jim Anundson did a good job in relief of Johnston in the first half. He came to the rescue of a tired Leo Schlanger in the second half. Though he didn't score much he did a good job on the boards.

Bob Tingley was high for the Bradford five. He led all scorers with 33 points. The lanky visitor hit on jump shots from around the key.

Bob Henry was the only other member of the Bradford five to score more than ten. He had 15.

Warren broke on top 52-38 at the half. Randas cleared the bench in the final eight minutes and gave everyone a chance to play. In the final 20 minutes the locals outscored Bradford 45-32.

Next game for Warren will be Saturday at Edinboro. They will face Shenango, a team which has beaten Warren twice by a one-point margin.

KC Assistant Now Utah State Coach

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah State University yesterday hired Chuck Mills, an assistant with the Kansas City Chiefs of the American Football League, as head football coach.

Mills succeeds Tony Knap who resigned three weeks ago.

Mills, 38, is a graduate of Illinois State University, and has wide experience as a coach in high school, college, semipro and professional football.

He joined the Kansas City staff in 1966 as offensive coach and was credited with a key role in the Chiefs' winning the AFL title.

Fracture Under Eye Of Terrell Repaired

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ernie Terrell was operated on yesterday for an injury of the left eyeball which his surgeon said caused double vision from the time it was incurred in Monday night's heavyweight title fight against Cassius Clay.

The 6-foot-6 Terrell claimed after the 15-round bout in the Astrodome at Houston, Tex., that Clay stuck a thumb in the

Big Bruin Top Man In Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite the Southern California freeze that limited him to 13 points last Saturday, UCLA's giant Lew Alcindor continues to lead the nation's major college basketball players in scoring and field goal accuracy.

The 7-foot-1 sophomore was held to his lowest point total of the year when Southern Cal put on the stall before losing to the Bruins 40-35 in overtime.

But he still has a 30.1 average for 17 games while second-place Jim Walker of Providence has an average of 29.4 for 16 games, according to figures released Thursday by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Bob Lloyd of Rutgers is third with an average of 28.6.

Alcindor, who leads in field goal accuracy with a .665 mark, has led the nation in scoring seven of nine weeks this season. He has a chance to become the first player in history to lead in both scoring and field goal accuracy.

Lloyd, who has a current string of 56 consecutive free throws without a miss, has a phenomenal .957 mark from the line. He has missed only seven of 164 attempts.

Matmen Host Rockets Tonite

Warren's wrestlers host Titusville tonight and the Rockets will be working to reverse a loss to the Dragons earlier in the season.

In the match wrestled at Titusville, the Dragons and Rockets split the twelve bouts, but the margin of a 24-18 victory for the locals came on three falls.

The Rockets are now 7-4 and routed Cranberry the last time out, 43-23 in a match that featured nine pins.

Head coach Chuck Walizer, in his first season at the Rockets, may have three changes in the lineup that lost to the Weoburns the first time around. Paul Bennett may be at 103 instead of Harry Hasbrouck, the 138-pounder will probably be Dick Hasbrouck in place of Jim Lingo and the Rockets' 154-pounder could be Dan Foley. Howard Morrison wrestled at 151 in the earlier meeting.

Morrison was decisively by Corky Greenwood at Titusville. Lingo was pinned by Bill Shaffer and Dana Sorensen defeated Harry Hasbrouck. Other winners for the Dragons were Frank Cataldo (95), Doug Sorensen (120) and Bob Thompson (165). Cataldo and Doug Sorensen notched the other falls for the locals.

The 180-pound duel should again be the featured bout of the night, Warren's Darrell Pusateri will be out for revenge of a 4-2 loss to tough Barney McCracken of the Rockets.

The only change in the Dragons' starting lineup will be at 127-133; Jim Mead was at the latter weight for the first match and will be at 127 tonight, with Steve Kaiser moving up.

This will be the last home match of the season for the Blue and White, who boosted their record to 8-4 with Wednesday night's triumph over Redbank Valley.

The H. E. Miller award will be presented to Warren's outstanding grappler prior to the varsity go. Frank Cataldo, Dana Sorensen, Doug Sorensen and Darrell Pusteri have been nominated for the trophy, which stands 30 1/2 inches high and is presented annually by wrestling fan Charles "Bunky" Froman.

Action starts tonight at 5:30 with Beatty's Blue and White teams meeting, followed at 6:30 by the junior varsity bouts with the varsity matches slated to start at 8 p.m.

Probable lineups are listed below.

WARREN	TITUSVILLE
Cataldo 95	Goodwin
Da. Sorensen 103	P. Bennett
Waxman 112	Brady
Do. Sorensen 120	Beatty
Mead 127	J. Bennett
Kaiser 133	Young
Shaffer 138	D. Hasbrouck
Maines 145	Bangs
Greenwood 154	Foley
Thompson 165	Ongley
Pusteri 180	McCracken
Bryan	Hvy. Muir

Tuesday's Match At JHS, 3 P.M.

Tuesday's Warren - at Jamestown wrestling match has been rescheduled. The meeting is now slated for 3 p.m. at Jamestown High School. The junior varsity bouts will follow the varsity matches.

Jamestown is currently, 11-0, having defeated Silver Creek on Tuesday night, 28-16. The match will be the last of the season for both teams.

Full Slate On Tap for Warren County Cagers

A full schedule of high school basketball games are on schedule for tonight as the season draws to a rapid close.

A Section II battle will have another different lineup for the Dragons on the floor at Titusville.

In the Upper Allegheny Valley League the Youngsville Eagles, with their hopes of winning the crown just about down the drain, will host West Forest, Eisenhower is at Tidoute in the other UAVL game.

Sheffield will play a non-league game at Bradford Central Christian.

In the first Dragon-Rocket meeting the locals fought a nip-and-duck game on their floor and came away with a 62-57 victory.

The shooting of the Hunter boys, Scott and Bob, led the attack. Scott scored 28 points and Bob added 22. They had a total of 50 of the Dragons 62 points.

Coach Joe Shantz said that he has decided to go with basically next year's team for tonight's encounter. Getting the starting nod will be Randy Jones, Scott Hunter, Dan Krumm, all are sophomores. Junior Dan O'Neil will be the fourth man. In the fifth spot will be either Jim Beichner, a junior, or Rob Loranger, a sophomore.

Titusville was without the services of big Craig Cochran in the first game. He is back, but coach Jim Kockler has also cut down on the use of the seniors.

The Rockets have been using Wayne McNamara and Steve Hampton along with the senior delegation of Randy Newson, Martin Patterson and Jim Girts.

The first time around for the Youngsville-West Forest clash the Eagles game from a half-time deficit to trip the Indians 68-39. A strong second half defense turned the trick for the charges of Paul Siegel.

The big guns in the game for the Eagles were Ron Knapp with 21 points and Gary Carter with 20 markers. Milt Johnson also hit double figures with 12 tallies.

Other starters for the Eagles will be Denny Walton and Bob Chisholm. George Nelson played a good game at Sparta and will probably be the first man off the bench.

West Forest is led by Randy

Custer, Tony Kline, Bill Kiser. All three are consistent threats to score 20 points in a game. Other starters for the Indians are Mike Vermillion and Al Flick.

The other UAVL game will pit Tidoute, a 15-point loser on the Eisenhower court, hosting the Knights. Ike won the game 83-69.

The Bulldogs had two scorers over 20 points in the first match. Bob Bosko and Ed Ziegler hit for 20 and 22 points respectively.

Eisenhower had five men in double figures with Bob Burlingame pacing the attack with 21 points. Gary Fry had 15 while Bill McFarland and Dave VanCise each had 14. Barton Lobnes will be the fifth man. He had 13 points.

Starting for the Bulldogs besides Ziegler and Bosko will be Bill Brown, Harry Hopkins and Max Anderson.

Sheffield put on a scoring display to beat Bradford Central Christian in an early season battle. The Wolverines won an 86-77 decision over the Ramblers.

Wayne Swanson led five Wolverine scorers into double figures with 23 markers. Ray Morrison had 20 points while the other three starters also hit double figures. They are Robbie Hart (13), Mark McGuire (17) and Jeff Scalise (11).

Knight Matmen Are Upset Bait for PV

Tonight could be the night that the Eisenhower wrestlers get bumped. They host Pine Valley in a big Southern Tier match at 8 p.m.

According to coach Don Johns the team is really down. It could be the strain of the long season is starting to show.

Pine Valley, 3-5 in the league, has everything to gain and nothing to lose in the match. The Knights have everything to lose, and they are definitely upset bait.

Eisenhower must win in order to maintain their top position in the league. They have a 7-1 mark. Also on tap tonight is a match between Randolph and Southwestern. Randolph is 8-1 in the league.

Coach Johns says that the attitude of the boys has sunk to its lowest ebb. He said that he wouldn't be at all surprised if the team got clipped.

In order to do something about the poor attitude Johns has threatened to shake up his lineup.

Starting for him at 95 will be Pete Block, 103 will be either Owen Williams or his brother Denny Williams. Either Gary Gage or Owen Williams will go at 112.

The lineup is pretty well set for the next five brackets with Paul Cathcart at 120, Gary Dalrymple (127), Paul Lindemuth (133), Dan Larson (138) and Dave Burnett (145).

Again the lineup is a bit shaky the rest of the way. At 154 will be either Jim Martin or Mickey Ludwig. At 165 and 180 will be either Harry Critzer or Tim Martin. One boy or the other will be at either position. The Heavyweight spot goes to Denny Haner.

There are only three seniors on the team. They are Lindemuth, Larson and Haner.

According to Johns the best match of the night will be at heavyweight where Haner meets Tom Butcher of Pine Valley.

There is one match left after this for the Knights. That will be against Silver Creek next week.

Home St. Edges Pleasant Twp.

Home Street came from behind in the second half of the Gray League game at Beatty yesterday to post a 15-8 win over Pleasant Township at Beatty Junior High School.

The loss was the first in the second half for Pleasant Township. Both teams are now 2-1.

Doing the scoring for Home Street were Glenn Belleau with five points and Don Trubie and Ken Lopez with four points each. High for the Pleasant Panthers were Tim Glossner and Hart with three points apiece.

The score by quarters is as follows.

Home Street	4	0	9	2-15
Pleasant	4	1	3	0-8

Houston Scores Easy 92-85 Win

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Elvin Hayes scored 42 points last night, leading fifth ranked Houston past Hardin-Simmons, 92-85, as the Cougars won their 16th basketball game against two losses.

Hayes, a 6-8 junior, scored 29 points in the first half, giving Houston a 50-40 lead at intermission. In all, he hit 15 of 26 field goal attempts and 12 of 19 free throws. He also had 22 rebounds for the night.

Houston built up an 88-70 lead with 5:33 remaining but Hardin-Simmons cut the spread to six points with 24 seconds left. Then Houston's Don Kruse hit two free throws, eliminating any Cowboy chances.

Mike Foreman was high scorer for Hardin-Simmons with 17 followed by Dick Nagy with 16. Don Chaney had 13 for Houston.

Lombardi Lectures AMA on Leadership

By RON RAPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Vince Lombardi, that well-known expert in the field of management, survived his first train ride in 17 years and lectured before the American Management Association yesterday on the qualities of leadership.

Lombardi, coach of the professional football champion Green Bay Packers, was given a police escort from Pennsylvania Station after his train, slowed by the Eastern blizzard, arrived 4 1/2 hours late. His last train ride, he said, was in 1950 when he was an assistant coach at Army.

Disclaiming the suggestion that he speak by phone from Philadelphia, Lombardi said, "I'll be there," and few if any of the thousands or so persons attending the luncheon meeting dared to walk out before he arrived.

His speech, which was something of a combination of Knute Rockne, Billy Graham and Lyndon Johnson, referred to the attributes that go to make up the "quality of mental toughness" needed in leadership.

These he listed as humility, spartanism, love and a perfectly disciplined will.

"If we would create something," he said, "we must be something. We make a mistake unless we keep working to win, to win and to win, I don't think affection means too much; I think confidence does."

He said football is "a game which has become the symbol of what this nation's best attributes are — stamina, courage and coordinated efficiency."

"This is an age for heroes," Lombardi said. "The test of this century is whether we mistake the growth of wealth and power for the growth of strength and character. We've weakened discipline and respect for authority and let freedom of the individual predominate."

Tar Heels Win Over Wake Forest

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Bob Lewis scored six points in an overtime period last night as Wake Forest captured an Atlantic Coast Conference basketball victory from Wake Forest 75-73.

With the score tied at 67 with five seconds remaining in the regulation contest, the Deacons' Newton Scott missed from the foul line, throwing the game into overtime.

Lewis sparked the Tar Heels in the extra period, matching Wake Forest's point output.

The Deacons were crippled when four players fouled out in the regulation play.

OUTDOORS by Don Neal

A Needed Change

Sportsmen can do themselves a big favor by getting in touch with Assemblyman Bill Fuellhart and letting him know that they want him to support a bill that has been introduced in the State Legislature by Rep. John F. Laudadio of Westmoreland County.

The Laudadio bill would make it mandatory for the fish and game commissions to hold open meetings that would allow more public participation at the time decisions vital to sportsmen were being considered. An opportunity that has been denied the sportsman since the "closed door" sessions became popular with these pseudo-legislators several years ago.

Evidently Laudadio feels that if elected representatives have a moral obligation to permit public scrutiny of their actions, the commissions they control have no special right to privacy. Who is this John Laudadio?

Well, to state it briefly, John Laudadio is a former electrical worker from Jeannette, Pa., who has worked diligently for all types of conservation measures since becoming a member of the State Legislature in 1962.

Prior to his election to public office, he was active in the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen Clubs and served on the Legislative Committee for several years. He is presently president of that organization.

From a personal standpoint, I can say that it is my impression that John Laudadio is one of the few politicians who has consistently served the sportsmen of the state, rather than trying to "use" them. He knows, perhaps better than anyone else, the need for the bill he is sponsoring.

Oldtimer's Reply

Along came another welcome letter the other day from Merle Welsh of Youngsville. It seems he got some nostalgic memories revived from reading a recent column that concerned a letter from Plummer Wilson down at Kelleetville. He writes:

Don Neal:
Reading your column on Plummer Wilson brought back to my mind the first deer track I ever saw—I saw this track before any deer were brought in here and I am certain you will learn something to write about if you contact Paul Klink here in town. I think he and his brother killed this buck and you will be amazed when he tells you the weight of it.

I helped release what I believe were the first deer released in Forest County. They came in by Pennsylvania railroad and were transferred to the Hickory Valley and released near Queens.

Mr. Wilson's remarks are correct as I was in Forest County the first ten years the season was open and conditions were just as he stated. Hope you contact Mr. Klink.

Merle E. Welsh
First, I want to thank Merle for his letter. Then I will assure him that I will make it a point to contact Mr. Klink and get the story on the "fabulous" buck.

It's In The Bag

It was about two years ago that I stood at the base of the Kinzua Dam and watched several fishermen fishing the tailwaters. "It would be great," I thought, "if we could have a fishing ramp here like I have seen pictured at other dams. Maybe even some lights for night fishing."

I liked the idea. So much so that I began talking the project up among my friends and those that I thought might have some influence in making the dream a reality. I can't say that I found too many others who would share my enthusiasm.

However, Halsey Harmon, resident engineer at the dam, did seem more favorably impressed than my fishermen friends. He brought the matter up one day while we were talking with Col. Hammer in his office. Col. Hammer thought the idea had possibilities and said that he would see that such a ramp was included in the plans for the recreation area the Corps of Engineers will construct at the foot of the dam.

That the Colonel meant what he said came to light recently when he brought the matter up himself in the presence of Brig. Gen. Willard Roper and led the General to the point of saying the project would also have his support.

What I'm wondering now is if we can get the Pennsylvania Fish Commission to permit year around trout fishing in these tailwaters as they are currently doing at the Youghiogony Dam near Confluence, Pa.

STILL IN THE GAME

Clem Haskins, the leading scorer on the West Kentucky University squad, continues to teach 10th grade physical education classes in a Bowling Green, Kentucky, high school. Haskins, an All-American candidate, is the leading scorer in the Ohio Valley Conference. He won't play for the rest of the year because of a broken right wrist he sustained recently in a game.

Big Names Head Field

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Six Olympians, including ace miler Jim Grelle and shotput king Randy Matson, headline the seventh Will Rogers indoor Games tonight. Grelle, the record holder here at 4.11.7, will go against ex-Texas miler Richard Romo in the feature race. Both have dipped beneath the four-minute mark—in fact, Grelle has cracked it more than 20 times.

New Mexico's John Baker, a winner at Lubbock last month, is a third entrant in the event. Another sellout crowd of 7,000 is expected to jam Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum to watch Matson go after his 1964 record here of 65 feet 8 1/2 inches.

Other Olympic veterans are John Thomas, Ralph Boston, Mel Pender and Tom Farrell.

Thomas and Boston both hold Will Rogers records—Thomas in the high jump at 6-9 and Boston in the broad jump at 28-3 1/2.

Boston, vowing to improve on his performance here, also will run the 60-yard hurdles, an event he also has frequently. Johnny Morris of Houston is favored.

Pender, sixth in the Olympic 100 meters at Tokyo, returned recently from Vietnam and promptly won the 50-yard dash at Boston. He'll run the 60 here.

The event also drew former Southwest Conference titleholder Ralph Alspaugh and two outstanding Baylor Sprinters, Wayne Brandt and Clyde Peach. Farrell was one of several late entrants.

Strong Defense, Good Pitching Key As Houston Opens Training

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — The Houston Astros launch the major league's spring training season today and Manager Grady Hatton said he will field the strongest defensive team in the club's history.

"I definitely feel we have the best defense we've ever had," Hatton said yesterday as 23 pitchers and nine catchers began reporting at Houston's $1.1-million Florida camp. Sixteen infielders and eight outfielders report Feb. 20.

"I'm also very optimistic about our pitching," Hatton said, adding that three other major league clubs have contacted Houston about possible trades.

"Two clubs want relief pitchers and one club wants a starter," he said. "But we are in no hurry. Something might develop if the deal is right for us but we are not rushing into anything."

Hatton didn't elaborate. Hatton said he will do more than a normal amount of line-up juggling once the intra-squad and exhibition games begin.

"There will be a battle for five positions—left and center field, third base, first base and catcher—and we'll have more competition than ever before," he said. "You'll see a lot of faces."

Bob Aspromonte, the regular third baseman since Houston entered the National League in 1962, faces a challenge from Eddie Mathews, 35, the veteran the Astros got last month in a five-player trade with the Atlanta Braves.

"But we'll start using Mathews primarily at first base because we know what he can do at third," Hatton said. "He'll work with Chuck Harrison at first because Chuck seems to get off to late starts."

Harrison, 25, hit .256 in 119 games with Houston last year,

Tate Rejects Ga. Tech Job

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — University of Miami football coach Charlie Tate took himself out of the running yesterday for the head coaching job at Georgia Tech.

Tate, a former assistant at Tech, was a top prospect to succeed Bobby Dodd who is stepping down as head coach to become athletic director.

"I appreciate whatever consideration Georgia Tech has given me regarding the position of head football coach," Tate said in a statement.

"However, after serious thought, I have decided my future is at the University of Miami. I will remain at the University of Miami."

Tate, in three years at the Hurricanes' helm, guided his teams to a 4-5-1 record in 1964, a 5-4-1 mark in 1965, and last season led the team to an 8-2-1 record, including a victory in the Liberty Bowl over Virginia Tech.

but finished strong with a .290 average in September and October.

The 23 pitchers reporting Friday will include Bo Belinsky, the left-hander who had a 9-8 record with the Los Angeles Angels in 1964 before being suspended for shugging a sports writer. Houston got Belinsky in the Nov. 28 draft from San Diego, where he had been sent by Philadelphia.

Hatton plans to use Belinsky for long relief but with a starting opportunity if his major league comeback progresses satisfactorily.

The pitchers include only four other left-handers and, in addition to Belinsky, five others who will be wearing Houston uniforms the first time.

Senators Sign Ace

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators announced yesterday the signing of their leading pitcher, Pete Richert, who received a raise over his 1966 salary.

No salary figures were released by the Senators but it is estimated Richert will earn about $21,000 this year.

Construction Man

(c) New York Times News Service

NEW YORK — One of the happier byproducts of the blizzard that grounded all planes to the north was that it enabled a reluctant stayer-on in Houston to visit with Don Klosterman, the dynamic executive vice-president and general manager of the Houston Oilers of the American Football League.

Now that peace has arrived, it's likely that all such raids will be nullified and that settlements will be made amicably. At the moment the problems are being wrestled by Pete Rozelle, the commissioner for both leagues, and he is the best problem-wrestler in the business. Like most other executives in the A.F.L., Klosterman's admiration for his new leader keeps growing.

"The closer one gets to Pete," said Don, "the more of a giant he becomes. Of course, I've been aware of him longer than most because I've known him since I was 7 years old. He used to play basketball with my older brother."

They both came from the Compton area of California where Don developed into a quarterbacking sensation of such skills that he was the No. 1 draft choice one year of the Cleveland Browns. That's when he discovered to his dismay that a flat football field can be strewn with roadblocks.

"I can laugh at it now," he said with a warm and all-enveloping grin, "but it didn't seem funny then. At Cleveland the only quarterbacks I had ahead of me were Otto Graham and George Ratterman. When I finally was traded to the Los Angeles Rams, all I had ahead of me were Bob Waterfield and Norm Van Brocklin. After two years in service, I went back to the Rams and ahead of me then were Van Brocklin, Billy Wade and Rudy Bukach. That's when I went to Calgary in the Canadian League."

His career was ended abruptly on St. Patrick's day of 1957 on a mountainside in Banff, Sking to a St. Paddy's Day party—he was eligible because his mother's maiden name was Kennedy—he crashed frightfully against a tree at 45 miles per hour in avoiding an inept gal skier.

"I broke all my ribs and my back," he said calmly, "and was paralyzed from the waist down. I was in the hospital for more than a year as my weight went from 192 to 138. It's been a long road back and I haven't made it all the way yet. But I'm convinced that my football training enabled me to make the progress I did."

"I remember the first time I could move my right foot. My therapist was elated and asked why I didn't share her elation. 'It's only the beginning,' I said. I learned from football that it sometimes took me more than a year to overcome a weakness in technique. I still have not complete control of my right foot but I take it lightly. I have it and it might as well face it. My father used to say, 'the good lord will never give you a crucifix too heavy to carry.' Since I was one of 15 children, I figure he should know."

By the time Don had gained enough mobility to get back to the thing he loved most, football, he returned to the administrative end of the sport as chief talent scout for the Chargers. So outstanding was the job he did that Lamar Hunt lured him away from the Chiefs, at that time the Dallas Texans. Then came the switch little more than a year ago to the Oilers, a team that sorely needed a brilliant young man to channel Bud Adams' enthusiasms into the proper direction. Klosterman will be a smash success.

"I played football for Loyola College," he said, "and that always baffles people. They ask if it's the one in Chicago or New Orleans or Baltimore. It's none of those. It's Loyola of Los Angeles and they always act surprised when I tell them I once faced an extraordinary college team as ever was brought together."

"I refer to the University of San Francisco. They were so good that eight starters eventually became such stickouts that they played in the Pro Bowl, meaning that they were among the best in the National Football League. Let's see. On that team were Gino Marchetti of the Colts, Bob St. Clair of the 49ers, Dick Stanfel of the Lions, Ed Brown of the Bears, Ollie Matson of the Cards, Red Stephens, Scooter Scudero and Ralph Thomas of the Redskins, Roy Barney of the Eagles and . . . I've forgotten some. But all regulars and two others made the N.F.L. except Earl Tolar who might have been the best of all if it had not been for an injury. Even their coach made it, Joe Kuharich."

Adams, an oil tycoon, hit a rare gusher when he hired Don Klosterman to supervise his football holdings.

Church
Roof
Drops

By TOM BRILEY
BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) —
The roof of a Roman Catholic church plagued by a history of tragedy collapsed with a roar onto an estimated 100 worshippers yesterday, burying them beneath tons of debris.
No one was killed. Forty-six persons, 31 of them children, received hospital treatment. Only nine were admitted.
A member of the congregation said "God's intervention" prevented the tragedy from being greater.

The roof fell onto the oak pews at the St. Rose of Lima church as the Rev. Francis O'Brien was saying an 8 a.m. Mass. The collapse touched off screaming, crying and what one witness described as bedlam.

The injured persons included two nuns. Most of those injured were children, pupils at the St. Rose of Lima School next door.

"The people were sitting down," Father O'Brien said. "The debris fell across the pews. The children were underneath."

The roof caved in on the auditorium, which seats about 600, and left only small portions of the front and rear of the building standing.

Also left standing was a crucifix at the altar, its undamaged outlines stark against the background of the debris.

Father O'Brien was at the altar saying Mass. The debris fell in front of him like a curtain. He was not injured.

It was the third time the church building has been extensively damaged, the other two times by fire, in 1915 and 1950. The school was destroyed by fire in 1926, only 25 days before its scheduled dedication. And in 1958, 11 persons died when fire swept a local amusement hall where a church-sponsored oyster roast was being held.

The building nearly destroyed Thursday was just paid for last December.

There was no immediate estimate of damage, and the architect, Carl Gaudreau, said he was "mystified" as to the cause.

Firemen removed all persons from the building within an hour.

The pews held up the beams and large chunks of the ceiling. Portions of both side walls crumbled, sending bricks in both directions.

Frame Balks at Convention Plan

State Senator Richard C. Frame was among four recalcitrant Republican legislators holding out for vital changes in Governor Raymond P. Shafer's plan for a limited constitutional convention.

Shafer's proposal may have to undergo drastic revision before it can win the necessary backing of the Republican ma-

Sparta Man In Accident, Parents Die

MEADVILLE — Richard L. Witmer of Spartansburg, state inheritance tax appraiser for Crawford County, was hospitalized after a violent head-on crash on Rte. 322 near State College in which both his parents were killed Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Phares Witmer of York both were pronounced dead on arrival at Centre County Hospital, officials reported.

Richard Witmer was listed in satisfactory condition with lacerations and arm and leg injuries. He reportedly was driving his parents back to York after a visit at the Witmer home at Spartansburg.

Driver of the other vehicle, Harold Eggers of Silver Spring, Md., was listed in fair condition at the hospital with a broken knee and lacerations. State police at the Rockview barracks said that an investigation is continuing.

The accident happened early in the afternoon about two miles east of Boalsburg in Centre County.

Quaker Bridge Being Wrecked

SALAMANCA, N. Y. — A structure which gave former Allegheny River community of Quaker Bridge its name is being smashed by wreckers because Kinzua Dam is creating a lake which will rise to the level of the bridge floor.

Employers of Union Concrete and Construction Corp. of West Seneca, which has $51,623 contract for removal of thirteen bridges in Allegheny Reservoir area, cut major connecting girders of one span, then yanked it loose with crane and bulldozer, dropping it in shallow water.

jority to get the plan approved by the Senate.

At least four vital changes to the administration measure were proposed by members as a secret poll of 25 of the 27-member majority bloc revealed only 18 GOP legislators in favor of the bill in its present form and seven opposed it.

The 22-member Democratic minority to date opposes the legislation.

It takes 26 votes to pass a bill in the Senate, thus making it necessary for the administration to pick up eight votes to push it through.

Frame's suggested change was that the convention be prohibited from allocating state highway funds for other purposes.

The Governor did not indicate to his senate leaders whether he would accept the proposed changes.

Senator Clarence D. Bell, Delaware, seeks to prohibit any changes to the judiciary article, except the election of judges, so that maneuvers cannot be initiated to wipe out more than 5,000 justices of the peace and aldermen in the state, as well as outlawing any move to abolish the Philadelphia magistrate courts.

Child Hit By Auto, Injured

A six-year-old girl suffered a possible head injury when she was struck by a car shortly after 11 a.m. yesterday on Fourth ave. near Public Way.

Admitted to Warren General Hospital was Lisa Covell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Covell, of 920 Stone Hill rd. Hospital officials said the child was under observation.

Borough police, who investigated, said a car driven by Albert V. Snyder Jr., 34, of 1321 Conewango ave. ext., was traveling west on Fourth ave. when Lisa ran into its path. The child, according to a witness, had just gotten out of a car on the curb side and was running around the rear of the vehicle.

Snyder told police he was watching other children to the right of his car when Lisa dashed into his path. He said he applied the brakes and stopped almost immediately but could not avoid hitting the girl. Police said Snyder was traveling at a moderate rate of speed.

According to police, the child was thrown about six feet by the impact.

Kin of Area Woman 'Bama Fire Victim

A 40-year-old Kane man was identified as one of 25 victims who died in the restaurant fire in Montgomery, Ala., Tuesday night.

Walter Alvin Weborg, who was born in Kane on October 23, 1926 and graduated from Kane schools and Penn State University, was one of 25 persons trapped in a runaway fire Tuesday night that engulfed a plush penthouse restaurant atop the 10-story Walter Bragg Smith apartment hotel.

Weborg, who was employed by Kopper's Lumber Co., Pittsburgh and a veteran of World War II, is survived by his wife, Olaf and three small children, Sonja, Eric and Christopher; three sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Pearson of Warren, Mrs. Jean Grosch, Kane and Mrs. Anne DeLong, of Lakewood, Ohio.

Funeral arrangements are expected to be held in Montgomery.

Firemen accustomed to tragedy were shocked Wednesday—almost in disbelief—over the flash fire which turned the penthouse restaurant into a death trap 10 stories above the street.

Townships Will Receive Hike in Gas Tax Refund

Townships in Warren County will receive increased liquid fuel appropriations this year. County Commissioner Blain M. Mead yesterday moved, with chairman D. H. Lay providing a second, that $100,000 in liquid fuels money be earmarked for the townships, where the need was described as "desperate."

Commissioner Lewis L. Crippen voted no on the motion but stipulated only because he felt the appropriation, since the county had the money, should be larger.

The action resulted when Warren County's Chief Clerk, William W. Allen, presented the liquid fuels account.

The balance in the fund on January 1, 1967, was $104,796.63 with $50,660.93 of this amount already pledged, including $35,000 for land acquisition in connection with the proposed Route 6 by-pass for Youngsville.

Actual receipts in 1966 totaled $94,202.09 plus interest of $1,761.09. Estimated receipts for 1967 from the state are about $80,000 plus $2,800 interest. The county has $70,000 on deposit at Pennsylvania Bank & Trust Co. at four per cent interest.

The drop in liquid fuel monies from the state this year, Allen said, is due to the fact that only one payment, in April, will be received as compared to two payments in December and June in the past. In 1968, however, the state plans to increase liquid fuel refunds by one and one-half per cent. Allen told the commissioners that if all encumbrances were paid, there would still be an operating balance of $142,135.65. Lay said he wanted to make certain that funds would be available to take care of any possible road damages and Allen assured the fund was in excellent shape to handle anything that comes up.

Mead questioned Crippen as to a report received following an inspection of the Hoffman Children's Home, which the county commissioners administer. The former inferred that Crippen was trying to keep others from knowing the situation, noting the communication, which disapproved the home, was addressed to the Warren County Commissioners and that he, Mead had not even seen it.

Vocal exercises proceeded for about ten minutes between the two office holders and ended abruptly when Chairman Lay stated that since there was no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Crippen took the stand that if Mead would attend meetings at the Hoffman Home he would know what's going on and stated that a regular commissioner's session was not the time for discussing the home.

According to Crippen, faults found during the inspection, had been taken care of except for those which are included in the new building program.

Warn Against Bogus Bills

NEW YORK (AP) — The Federal Reserve Bank of New York says that new counterfeit $20 Federal Reserve notes that are supposed to be issues of Federal Reserve banks in Boston, New York, Cleveland and Minneapolis are appearing in volume in this area.

The bank announced Wednesday that the shading lines of President Andrew Jackson's portrait on the bills were coarse and heavy in most cases. The cross-ruled lines in the background often merge into a solid black.

The Secret Service said that the Boston counterfeiters bore the check letters J and Q of the 1950 D and C series; the New York notes, the letter P of the 1950 D series; the Cleveland notes I of the 1950 D and 1963 series, and the Minneapolis notes, B of the 1950 B series.

The face plate and back plate numbers and serial numbers vary.

Town Crier

... By Les Rickey

I guess it's a sign of creeping maturity. I've finally decided it's impossible to understand women, a fact that I should have admitted when I was six and one pushed me down a snow bank and then wondered why I got a little miffed.

But I'm stupid that way, and I've gone on—through faith in my intellectual powers alone—believing that if I studied enough people, I eventually would find the key that would unlock the feminine mind. Fool that I was.

It's not that you can't really figure them out. You can. It's possible to have it all down pat, with everything tucked away in its neat little spot. What you can't figure out for yourself, they'll tell you about.

But they just don't play fair enough to stay that way. They change, as quickly as a kaleidoscope on a jarring subway ride. You just get used to the pattern and the colors and—Wham! Everything's different.

But there's hope, I'm told. Don Neal, who is older and much, much wiser than I, tells me there is at least one thing you can almost (but not quite) predict: their nesting season.

It's about this time of the year, he says, that women get the urge to start changing things around, repainting and repapering and remodeling anything that doesn't move and moving everything that does. This phenomena reaches a peak in the springtime, when the feminine folk are the best friends the hardware stores ever had.

But don't count on it. Resign yourself to a complete overhaul of the family abode and she'll shove a fishing rod in your hand and send you out the door.

And then again, maybe she won't.

I'm telling you, there's just no figuring them. And maybe it's a good thing. Wouldn't it be boring?

SOCIAL

Wanderings

by Marion Honhart

THE NATIONAL BALLET which appeared here in the fall under the auspices of the Warren Concert Series, is to perform at Edinboro State College on Thursday, March 2nd, at 2 p.m., in Memorial Auditorium on the main campus. The company is under the direction of the famous dancer and choreographer who served as judge at the 1965 and 1966 International Ballet Competitions in Bulgaria, Frederic Franklin. Their performance here was somewhat of a disappointment, I thought, though I was certain it wasn't the fault of the dancers, who have performed in Washington before Cabinet officials, ambassadors and representatives of all levels of official and social life... dancers who were honored by a command performance at the White House. No, I attributed the restraint of their dancing to the size of the high school stage, which, for the first time, seemed small to me. Perhaps the stage in Memorial Auditorium at Edinboro is large and spacious enough to allow for the long, graceful, soaring leaps and freedom of movement necessary to execute the brilliance and perfection of movement for which they are noted in Washington and elsewhere. The company's repertoire includes twenty-three ballets ranging from classical to contemporary... What ballet, or excerpts from ballets, they will dance in Edinboro remains to be announced.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You asked your readers to let you know how they feel about going through life with no name — just initials. I'd like to pass along a true story that might amuse you.

I was in the Army with a man whose name was B. N. Jones. When the sergeant began to fill out his personnel form he stopped Jones and asked, "Just B. N.? No name?" "That's right, Sergeant," the young man replied. The sergeant then wrote on the form "B (only) N (only) Jones."

The following morning we lined up for roll call, and the non-com in charge barked out loud and clear — "Bonny Nonny Jones," B. N. responded with a crisp "Here." And he remained "Bonny Nonny" until the day he was discharged. — A.E.H.

DEAR A.E.H.: The old song "This is the Army, Mr. Jones" must have been written for "Bonny Nonny." Thanks for sharing this goody. It was a real knee-slapper! + + +

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 22-year-old law student and my mother has been bugging me to write to good, old, level-headed you. Settle an argument, please.

A few months ago I was one of 80 young men invited to a lavish party given by the parents of a girl who had moved back to this city. The idea was to acquaint the chick with eligible fellows who might take her out. At first I was anti and didn't want to go. When I learned several of my buddies were going I decided to accept the invitation.

I had a good time but my interest ended when I said good night.

Now, my mother won't get off my back. She insists I owe it to the girl to take her to dinner or to a movie. I feel under no obligation to do so. Am I wrong or right? — A HUMBLE STUDENT

DEAR HUM: Sorry, but I'm with Ma. When you accepted the invitation, you obligated yourself.

If the girl was a dog, a thank-you note the next day would have taken you off the hook, but too much time has elapsed for that now. So pick up the phone and invite her to something. (I'd die laughing if she remembered you as a creep and said no.) + + +

DEAR ANN LANDERS: How far should a physician's receptionist go to be nice to the patients?

I am easy to get along with and I love my work, but some of the brassy requests from patients really burn me up.

Am I wrong to resent it when patients come in, knowing that they put only one nickel in the parking meter, and then wait until they are in the treatment room with all their clothes off to remember that their meter time is running out?

Twice last week patients asked me to go downstairs and put money in parking meters. One of the cars was parked a block away and a heavy snow storm was in progress. I had to put on my coat and boots and hood and then I wasn't sure which car was hers. I'd like your ideas on how to deal with such requests in the future. — NO METER MAID

DEAR MAID: The receptionist in a physician's office should not leave her post. One of the most vital aspects of her job is to answer the telephone. Patients who don't understand this should be told. + + +

Too many starry-eyed lovers do not know the difference. Do you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Before You Marry — Is It Love Or Sex?" enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Hints From Heloise

Never Give Up!

DEAR HELOISE

What do I do when I know that I can never get my work all done? It's very depressing. Once a month or so I just feel like it's useless to even try.

Mother

who gets tired and depressed

We ALL do. Relax, Hon, and enjoy life because it's so much shorter than you realize.

You'll NEVER get all your work done. Just top clean and get the effect. Then you can go into deep cleaning when that fidget takes over next time.

And don't set your standards so high. Bless you always.

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE

Most babies cry and are very frightened during their first few haircuts at a barber shop.

I thought it might be the noise of the electric clippers. So I asked the barber to just use scissors and show the baby the clippers and let him hear it work. After he got three haircuts with his scissors the baby didn't mind the clippers. Tell me.

M. J. C.

DEAR HELOISE

What can be done with him that binges up?

F. K.

DEAR F. K.

Lay a heating pad on the bulge spot. When the linoleum gets real warm, remove the pad and weight the bulge down with some heavy books.

Heloise

P. S. Does anyone else have other suggestions on how to correct an annoying and sometimes expensive problem?

If so we sure would love to hear from you. Just write to us in care of this paper.

Visiting Minister At First Methodist Sunday Morning

The Rev. David H. Blackburn, a native of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and a member of the executive staff of the Methodist Board of Missions, will speak at the First Methodist Church, Market Street at Second Ave., Warren, Penna. this Sunday at the 11 a.m. morning worship service.

As a director of the Advance Department of the Board's Joint Commission on Education and Cultivation, Mr. Blackburn assists in the promotion of special missionary giving which amounts to a most $10,000,000 annually.

It was an assignment with the Army Air Force that took Mr. Blackburn to Alaska in 1946 when he worked at the Elmendorf Air Base Depot near Anchorage. Although he had received earlier training towards a career in mechanical engineering, he responded to a call to the ministry by returning to Pittsburgh to complete his college training in 1947. Receiving a B.S. degree in psychology from the University of Pittsburgh in 1949 he enrolled in Boston University School of Theology where three years later he received his S.T.B. degree. Immediately upon graduation he proceeded to his first assignment in Alaska.

Just before going to Alaska in June, 1952, Mr. Blackburn married the former Ramona Alene Slaughter of Chaffee, Mo. Although Mrs. Blackburn had taught home economics in Missouri, in Alaska she assisted her husband not only as pastor's wife, but acted as a substitute teacher, served an appointment as special U.S. Commissioner, and as an emergency nurse delivered the first triplets in the Unga area. The Blackburns have two sons and a daughter, all born in Alaska.

Prior to joining the staff in July 1964, Mr. Blackburn served 12 years as a Methodist missionary in Alaska. For the last four years he was the superintendent, covering one of the largest geographical districts in Methodism. His first appointment was to the villages of Unga and Sand Point, located near the Aleutian Islands in the Shumagin Island group. In 1953 he was appointed to the Anchorage area where he organized the Anchor Park Church in suburban Anchorage, near the prospective site of Alaska Methodist University, and the Chugach Methodist Church in a home-steaded community 20 miles away.

During his term as superintendent, Mr. Blackburn was also a trustee of Alaska Methodist University. Having been an organizing member of the Committee of 100 which helped to organize the initial campaign for AMU in Anchorage, he assisted in organizing the community supporters' group known as Friends of AMU.

In addition, his mission experience included seven years as mission treasurer, four years as the first secretary-treasurer of the Alaska Council of Churches and active participation in the site selection and development of an area church camp. Other community activities included an active role in founding the first city council of churches in Alaska at Anchorage, charter membership on the Greater Anchorage Inter-Agency Council board of directors, and chairmanship of the first state Standards Committee for Child-Caring Institutions.

During 1952-53 he served a Federal appointment as U.S. Commissioner for the Unga Peninsula Precinct, and as the only law representative in this vast and remote area acted as recorder, coroner, probate judge, justice of the peace, notary public and welfare agent.

Opening lead: Ace of ♠.
West's flustered activities during the auction alerted South to the abnormal line of play required to land his six heart contract.

The opening bid of two hearts is eminently sound inasmuch as South holds a game in his own hand. West's take-out double would have been proper had his opponent's call been one heart. Under the circumstances, however, his action was akin to fighting tanks with toys, for the prospects of buying the hand at a reasonable level are dim.

North passed and East dutifully responded with two spades, his longest suit. South jumped to game in hearts and West passed. North had as yet taken no part in the proceedings, and reasoning that his holding ought to be worth at least one trick to partner, he bid five hearts. South carried on to slam.

West opened the ace of spades on which South dropped the king. With the appearance of the jack in dummy, a spade continuation was not safe and inasmuch as a club shift did not appear inviting, West led back the seven of diamonds. East played the ten and declarer was in with the ace.

South observed that, if the trumps were divided two-one and the clubs no worse than four-two, which is the normal expectation, he could establish North's long club for the discard of his losing diamond. The play would proceed as follows:

The ace and king of clubs are cashed and a third round is ruffed in the closed hand. A heart is led to the ten to trump a fourth club and dummy is reentered with the jack of hearts to cash the ten of clubs.

As it develops, this line of play must fail, because East has all three missing trumps and can prevent the discard by ruffing in when South attempts to cash the high club.

Declarer uncovered an alternative plan based on an inference obtained from the auction. West's take-out double marked him with virtually all of the missing honor strength and South decided to squeeze his opponent out of a key asset by running down the entire trump suit.

As the hearts were led, West was obliged to make eight discards. He was able to part with his four remaining diamonds, two spades, and one club without undue strain. On the last heart, however, the pressure became unbearable. If he gave up the queen of spades, North's jack would be established. The discard of the nine of clubs enables declarer to take the last three tricks in that suit with the ace, king, and ten.

West folded his cards and gracefully conceded defeat.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1967.

ARIES (March 21 to April 20) — One of your top days for attainment, and this means in several ways. But strengthen present status before tackling new ventures. Use your intuition and "sixth sense."

TACRUS (April 21 to May 21) — Hold off in those areas which require more investigation, but step up your schedule once you have the necessary data, so as not to lose time. Artistic pursuits highly favored.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) — Do not be afraid to ask for assistance or information. The more heads at work, the more know-how to be passed around. You will face competition but you CAN meet it.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) — Devote your attention to completing routine tasks, rather than attempting long-range undertakings. A good day for advancing in business.

LEO (July 24 to August 23) — Excellent planetary influences. Your intuition, foresight and reflexes should be at a peak now, but remember that foresight and good management will be important.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23) — Tolerance and discretion must accompany all speech and action now. Emphasizing these traits, you can sail full steam, with credits and new prizes in the making.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23) — Considering all the opportunities available, you surely should put to best use your variety of talents and your edge in proiciency and strategy. Aim HIGH!

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23) — There is more to this day than may be obvious at first, so dig deep for its treasures, and BELIEVE that you will succeed. Don't overshoot safe marks, however.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21) — If you take a wrong turn, quickly reverse and do not hesitate to ask directions, but be sure of the source of such information. The familiar may not be the most gainful now. Tact!

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) — Avoid discouragement. Stress confidence, sure-footedness. Display your innate stability.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) — If you don't try to put a square peg into a round hole you will find the day satisfying. Stress your versatility and personality: You will find the day satisfying.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) — Under present influences, unusual matters can move forward perceptibly, as can daily routine if you are systematic. Avoid extremes.

YOU BORN TODAY: Here is tremendous energy, stamina and a desire for achievement. You may tend to overdo, overstress, thus give an erroneous picture of your true self. The Aquarian is not satisfied with mediocre work or ideas. You are practical, have friends from all classes, and always aim to increase advantages. Keep this healthy trend up. Have recourse to music, any of the arts and outdoor sports as refreshing hobbies. Birthdate of: Charles Lamb, poet, essayist, critic.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

DEVIL'S GRIP

Pleurodynia (devil's grip) is a disease that occurs in epidemics and is characterized by transient pain in the region of the diaphragm. Distress is aggravated by breathing and coughing. Children and young adults are most susceptible but all age groups may be affected. The victim spends a miserable week before recovering.

The Coxsackie virus is the causative agent and invades only the muscles of the diaphragm. No one knows why the condition is spread by close contact but it is the consensus that the infection is transmitted via contaminated food, water, or insects.

A 14-year-old girl awakened with severe pain in the left lower chest that was aggravated by breathing, talking, and sneezing. It disappeared after an hour but recurred late in the day. She was hospitalized with a temperature of 99.9 degrees F. In the night, five episodes of pain occurred, each lasting five to 30 minutes. The last attack took place on the third day, and she was able to return home shortly thereafter.

Meanwhile, her 16-year-old sister developed pain that was more abdominal in nature and with a higher pulse and temperature. Breathing was so painful that oxygen was needed for relief. When the temperature reached 104 degrees F. she became incoherent and delirious. Improvement began on the third day, but a week elapsed before she recovered.

Both girls had the same disease, but it was more serious in one. The younger had pain above and the older below the diaphragm. The mild forms of epidemic pleurodynia usually escape detection unless they occur in epidemic proportions.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

TOMORROW: Hidden Causes of Asthma.

Senoritas Plan Trip To Mexico

The Spanish 111 Class of Youngsville High School, along with their sponsors Mrs. Mabel Dickey and Miss Mary Ann Greenatch, are planning a trip to Mexico for the summer of 1968.

The group, composed of 11 senioritas, already has had several money-raising projects this year.

They have sponsored two bake sales at Morley's Super Duper and a car wash at the Atlantic Service Center in Youngsville. Their cider sales at the home football games went over big with fans from both sides and their ice-cream social, before and after the Senior Class Play, helped increase their funds.

During January and December, the girls vigorously approached the population of Youngsville with a sale of utility scissors and now, through the friendly community spirit of Youngsville Skiways, they are operating the candy counter there.

Their latest project is a spaghetti supper which will be held tomorrow at the Youngsville Methodist Church from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. The price of admission is $1.25 for adults, $.75 for children with preschool age children free.

Juniors Advised to Plan Now for College

According to the Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency, High School juniors should be sure to:

(1) Take the S.A.T. (Scholastic Aptitude Test) of the College Board Examinations in March or May of this year.

(2) Indicate on the registration form that the scores are to be released to the Higher Education Assistance Agency by designating code number 0490.

(3) Procure a Social Security card and number as quickly as possible. The student's Social Security number must be on all loan and scholarship applications.

(4) Indicate his first choice in colleges on the scholarship application. Without a college choice indication - no application will be processed.

The Higher Education Agency has stated it will forward a Commonwealth Scholarship Application to all students who have a combined S.A.T. score of 800 or higher for consideration for a Group II award.

A special application will also be sent to the 5,000 juniors who have the highest combined S.A.T. scores for consideration for a Group I award. They are classified as semi-finalists by P.H.E.A.A. and will receive monetary awards based on the availability of state funds and the individual student's need for financial assistance.

In addition to these reminders for the college bound students the agency sends the following reminders:

(1) Students who wish to attend trade schools, technical schools, business schools, or hospital school of nursing need not take the S.A.T.

(2) Those students must be accepted at the school of their choice before filing a scholarship application with P.H.E.A.A. Concerning this group of non-college bound students, Mr. Kenneth Reher, executive director of the agency announced:

"Pennsylvania is the first State in the Nation to grant scholarships for study in private trade and business schools. A total of 626 scholarships have so far been granted to students attending such schools. They amount to $238,500."

The entire program administered by this agency has guaranteed 35,502 loans totalling $27,649,358 in three years of operation in Pennsylvania. In Mr. Reher's own words:

"The students not eligible for the Scholarship Program can always be considered for the State guaranteed loans under the State Guaranty Loan Program of Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency. We will guarantee a loan regardless of family income."

Eisenhower Grapplers Keep Spree

By CINDY GLOTZ and MITZI BREZEE

The wrestlers of Eisenhower High School are showing real spirit as they near the end of the wrestling season.

The team now stands at a 7-1 record showing as they go into league play against Pine Valley this evening on the Eisenhower mats.

The Eisenhower wrestlers, coached by Donald Johns and assistant coach Troy Martin are now only a half a game out of first place in the Southern Tier Wrestling Conference. They stand second only to Randolph who holds a record of 8-1 at present.

The boys are working hard to prepare themselves for Friday night's match with ninth place Pine Valley.

Wednesday, February 15 the Knights will host Silver Creek at Eisenhower. Then on February 17-18, they will be travelling to the Pennsylvania Sectionals at Franklin. The Ike High matmen have a good chance of placing high in the sectionals.

The support of the wrestlers by the students has grown more and more since the season began. If the wrestlers do bring home the trophy, we will know it was because of the support by the fans and the effort of the Eisenhower High wrestling team.

Draft Is Termed Unfair

N. Y. Times Service

WASHINGTON—Leaders of 15 student organizations representing both ends of the political spectrum Sunday urged the abolition of the draft and the encouragement of voluntary service in humanitarian pursuits.

In a resolution ending a two-day conference on the draft and national service at the Shoreham Hotel here, the student leaders said that "the present draft system with its inherent injustices is incompatible with traditional American principles of individual freedom within a democratic society, and . . . for this reason the draft should be eliminated."

The resolution then concluded that "an urgent need exists within our society for young people to become involved in the elimination of such social ills as ignorance, poverty, racial discrimination and war."

Sherman B. Chickering, the publisher of Moderator, a professional magazine for students which sponsored the conference, read the resolution at a news conference at the Shoreham Sunday afternoon.

The 15 student leaders said that while they believed the resolution reflected in many cases the opinions of their memberships, they signed the statement as individuals and not on behalf of their groups.

The brief resolution represented the extent of the full agreement among the student leaders. They were unable to reach unanimity on concrete proposals to implement their resolution.

Observers considered the statement significant, however, in that student leaders from both political extremes as well as moderates expressed common opposition to the draft for differing reasons.

Gregory Calvert, national secretary of the left-wing Students for a Democratic Society, for example, said he opposed the draft because it provided the military manpower necessary for "American imperialism and an aggressive foreign policy abroad."

David Franke, editor of the New Guard, a publication of the right-wing Young Americans for Freedom, said he wanted the draft eliminated because "it's against individual liberty" and is "one of the most totalitarian measures on the books."

Meanwhile a poll of 30,500 students at 23 campuses throughout the country indicated widespread dissatisfaction with the current Selective Service system, if less radical than that expressed by the student leaders. The poll was conducted by the National Students Association whose president, Eugene Groves signed the resolution Sunday.

LAST OF A SERIES

Student from Vietnam

By NANCY JOHNSON and TESSA SIFFIN

Le Van Dung is attending Warren Area High School as a foreign exchange student sponsored by the American Field Service (AFS).

Le comes from Hue, Vietnam, a city of 125,000 people and also the old capital of Vietnam. He was 18 years old on December 25, is the sixth in a family of seven children and has one sister and five brothers.

In Warren, Le is residing at 18 Hertz Street with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh W. Molney, Ron, Carol, and the dog, Louis.

Le tells us that the weather in Vietnam is much warmer than it is in Warren. The winter temperatures never go below 50 degrees and the summers are about 95 degrees. There is no snow there.

In Vietnam, Le would attend school five days a week plus a half day on Saturday. The school day there is from 8:00 a.m. to noon and from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. Students go home for lunch between 12:00 noon and 3:00 p.m. At his school, Le says, students must wear uniforms. They are required to study Vietnamese, English, French, history, geography and math. They also may take physics, P.O.D., economics and sociology and philosophy. About two-thirds of the seniors there are taking calculus.

Outside activities include movies, dances, and sports. Young people do date in Vietnam.

Le enjoys sports very much. His national sport is soccer. Basketball, volleyball, tennis, swimming, ping pong, and badminton are also popular.

The religion of Vietnam is divided; 70 per cent are Buddhist, 20 per cent are Catholic and Protestant, and the remaining 10 per cent are of various religions.

Le enjoys the United States very much. His favorite foods are pizza and spaghetti, which are both new to him. Rice is the main dish in Vietnam.

At W.A.H.S., Le belongs to the United Nations Club, Tennis Club, Student Council, and recently was inducted into the National Honor Society. He enjoys wrestling.

Future plans for Le include college in Saigon where he will study to be an electrical engineer.

He wants to say thank-you for the help the United States has given to Vietnam.

Polling of Opinions Scheduled

By KATHY POLIMENE

On one of the pages of the Problems of Democracy textbook, there is a section entitled, "The Measurement of Public Opinion." In this section it says, "There has been an increasing effort in the Twentieth Century to measure public opinion."

The seniors of S.H.S. just add one more effort in this direction. In this case, the public being questioned are the 124 students in Sheffield Senior High.

The questions asked on this poll involve the workings of the school, as well as national policy. The poll is not intended as a means for students to get rid of the hostility. Rather, it is merely to measure the opinion of the chosen "public."

The questions asked were devised through the joint action of the two P.O.D. Sections. The questions were not necessarily intended to suggest policy change to anyone, but are simply intended to show the aggregate opinions of some of the students in our school.

Copies of the poll will be made available to anyone upon request. Also, when statistics have been gathered and possible conclusions have been made, the results of the poll will also be made available to anyone upon request.

Anyone having constructive suggestions as to how the poll could have been presented better, or anyone having questions he would like to have asked in any possible polls in the future should contact Mr. Price at Sheffield High School.

Warren Seniors Plan Hush Day

The Seniors are sponsoring a Hush Day this Tuesday. Students may purchase tickets, 2 for a nickel, during homeroom in the morning. Each time someone speaks to a person of the opposite sex, he must give that person a ticket. At the close of the day, all tickets will be collected. The girl and boy who turn in the most tickets will be crowned King and Queen on Thursday during the Dance Band Assembly.

DAR History, Hygiene Talks

By ELLIOT SEGEL

On Thursday morning, Feb. 1, an assembly program was presented to the eighth grade. First of all, Mr. Loyal Briggs, eighth grade hygiene teacher, gave a talk and film on hygiene. Then, Miss Catherine Henderson and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson, representing the D.A.R. chapter in Warren, presented the annually given D.A.R. History Award to the eight outstanding history students in the eighth grade. Recipients of the awards were Lois Arnold, Melody Bliss, Chris Cassatt, Bill Dentler, Wendy Fritz, Robert Gustafson, Dennis Marshall, and Gary Scalise.

Turning to sports, the Beaty basketball team played two games this week and won them both, making their record nine wins and five losses. Last Thursday on the local court, they avenged an earlier loss to Kane by defeating the Wolves by the score 41-31. The following Monday the Little Dragons traveled to Eisenhower to engage in a contest with Northern Area. Beaty came out on top by a score of 59 to 7. Ed O'Neil and Jim Monahan led the Beaty cagers with a combined total of 30 and 26 points respectively for both games.

A wrestling assembly was given on Wednesday with the supervision of Beaty wrestling coaches, Mr. Chew and Mr. Knopick. First Mr. Chew gave the history of wrestling in the Olympics and then explained and demonstrated the new referee's position which will be used by all Pennsylvania high schools next year. Last of all, twelve boys wrestled actual matches with six representing the blue team and six on the white team. The white team won 10-2.

On Saturday, the annual Beaty wrestling tournament was held at the high school. It was organized by Mr. Chew, Mr. Knopick, and Mr. Creek, coach of Youngsville Junior High, which also sent several men to the mat tourney. Preliminaries were held at 2:00 p.m. and the finals took place at 7:00 p.m. Winners of each weight class are listed below:

Ike Cagers Working Hard

The varsity basketball team of Eisenhower High School planted themselves a great win Tuesday night against Pleasantville with a score of 87 to 53. With this victory, the boys showed a great boost in their moral. Even though their record stands at 3 wins and 13 losses, the boys are showing renewed enthusiasm and more progress.

The team now is averaging about 58 points per game. Coach Sherwood has named the players that have been of most value to the team. They are Bob Burlingame, Gary Fry, David VanCise, Bill McFarland, Barton Lohnes, and Alan Swanson.

Bob Burlingame, center, has stacked up 359 points for himself in 16 games. He is now averaging about 22.4 points per game and has the lead for rebounds at a 260 total. Bob is shooting a 70 per cent average from the foul line.

Barton Lohnes and Alan Swanson, two newcomers to the Varsity squad are showing real basketball know-how, even though they have had no previous Varsity experience before this year. Coach Sherwood says, "The younger players who have had less experience are coming along well. I am also pleased with the way the boys are progressing. I admire these boys for their stick-to-it spirit."

The remaining basketball games are Tidouthe, away, tonight, West Forest on February 14 at home. Also there is, on Tuesday, February 21, a basketball game when the Knights meet Spartansburg.

The spectators are still upholding the team's efforts and hope this spirit will continue in the next three games.

The Junior Varsity at E.H.S., coached by Eugene Rolls, has improved over the months. The Junior Varsity first-string squad is not permanently set. Their consistent players, though, include Greg Johnson, Bob Russell, Gary Olson, and Jeff Lindell. The rest of the first-string players varies between Tim Allen, Martin Hoffman, and Bob Sliter.

Coach Rolls says, "The boys will develop into a good Varsity squad next year if they work out all summer and improve their shooting accuracy."

The team's most improved, highest rated player is sophomore Bob Russell. This also includes total rebounds. He is the leading rebounder with 91. He is followed by Jeff Lindell, in second place by a two point margin. Bob has an overall shooting average of 32 per cent from the floor and 44 per cent from the foul line. Lindell follows with a 23 per cent from the floor and a 34 per cent from the foul line.

The team average is 53.3 points for 14 games, which puts them at a 38 point average per game. The team shows a rebound record of 259 points defensive and 156 points offensive. Their steals stand at 155.

Tonight, in league action, the Knights will meet Tidouthe on the Tidouthe hardwood. The basketball record stands at 3 wins and 13 losses to date, although we are hoping to make it 3-13 tonight. Their schedule is the same as the Varsity's, with West Forest on Tuesday, and Sparta on February 21.

Coach Rolls feels his team is gaining ground and he says, "We've had a lot of close games, but we need just a little more offensive punch particularly at the foul line."

Nineteen boys make up the Junior High basketball team at E.H.S. Coach Tom Swift's "Little Knights" now stand at a 4-8 record. Mr. Swift's first string line-up consists of: Bob North, Ken Burford, James Nesmith, Dave Allenson, Wayne Lundmark, Tom Wilkins, and Royal Lohnes.

The boys started the season with a bang by defeating Spartansburg and Youngsville. After these two games, the boys encountered problems that caused the start of a losing streak. The boys are making a sincere attempt to get back on their feet, and are showing great improvement.

Coach Swift feels, "that the Knights have some fine young talent but need a lot of work. With the proper practice, the Knights could have a lot to look forward to."

These young players have been supported diligently and faithfully by the Junior High cheerleaders. These cheerleaders are Kathy Nesmith, Becky Yeagle, Penny Parks, Katie Machemer, Mitzi Gage, and Marsha Wilcox. The enthusiasm of the crowds has also been a big help to the players.

These boys are soon to develop into the future battling Knights of Eisenhower High School and their efforts deserve a lot of merit.

Your Drivers' License

Will They Change the System?

Editors Note: The 1967 legislature is only a month old but more than a dozen bills to change Pennsylvania's driving laws have already been introduced. Two, especially, are stirring controversy and they're not even out of committee. Here's a report.

By PAUL ZDINAK

HARRISBURG (AP) — The month-old legislature is giving the Pennsylvania motorist a good deal of attention.

So far, 17 bills that would amend the Vehicle Code have been introduced and two of these already are stirring controversy. One is the familiar restricted driver's license bill and the other is a measure to permit court appeals against points issued for traffic violations.

Prospects are that the controversy over these two measures will increase.

Both are in Senate committee and both are strongly opposed by State Traffic Safety Commissioner Harry H. Brainerd, considered a chief architect of the new point system.

Sen. George N. Wade, a sponsor of both bills, explained his position.

"It is hardly right under our constitution to refuse anyone the right of appeal," Wade, R-Cumberland, said in reference to the court appeal bill, Senate Bill 40.

Wade and five colleagues, including the Republican and Democratic floor leaders, sponsored the measure.

Under the point system, begun last July, a motorist is assessed points if he is convicted of a traffic violation; the number of points depending on the severity of the offense.

Accumulation of enough points results in a license suspension.

Under present law, a motorist can appeal the conviction — but not the points.

"Say a motorist is charged with running a stop sign," Wade continued. "Rather than take the time, money and trouble to fight the charge, he pays the fine."

"This, substantially, is an admission of guilt. Had he the time and money he could refute the charge."

Consequently, Wade said, this driver should have the right to appeal the points which now are assessed automatically by the Secretary of Revenue when he receives notice of a conviction.

Brainerd, however, says the bill would weaken the intent of the point system. Such a law, he said, could lead to "inequality of treatment."

Brainerd theorized that two motorists with the same number of points for the same violations conceivably could be accorded different treatment in different courts. He added that one motorist may be able to afford a court appeal while another may not.

In effect, Brainerd says, let the driver appeal the conviction — but not the points.

During an interview Friday, Gov. Shafer said he would oppose any bill that would weaken the state's point system. Shafer did not refer to any specific bill.

The restricted operator's license idea is an old standby on Capitol Hill. An effort to attach this proposal to the point system bill was beaten down in 1965.

Basically, a suspended motorist could continue to drive under a restricted license if he could prove that his job depends on it. A truck driver is a good example.

For at least one day of the week, this motorist would not be allowed behind the wheel at all.

Wade, who along with Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup and Majority Whip Silbert R. Pechan sponsored the bill, explained a unique amendment he plans to propose to this bill, Senate Bill 31.

"A fellow would voluntarily buy a 'business' operator's license at the same time he buys a regular license," Wade said.

"This second license would be stamped immediately if he loses the other license through suspension and he could then drive in his work only," the senator said.

Wade, newly appointed chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, called attention to the considerable revenue which he said such "second" licenses could produce.

Before heading the appropriations panel, Wade was chairman of the Senate Highways Committee where all such traffic bills are considered.

Wade said the point system seems to be working well. "The reaction, generally, is very good," he said.

Brainerd said, "I am opposed to any such special privilege for any individual or groups who operate vehicles on the highway. Why a person drives a vehicle on the highway is irrelevant to safety on the highway."

Besides, Brainerd contends, the professional driver falls into a class of better drivers if only because of his constant exposure to motoring.

Some, but not nearly as much, discussion has been generated by a motorcycle inspection bill proposed by Sen. Donald O. Oesterling, D-Butler.

Under this measure, motorcycles would only have to be inspected once a year instead of twice, like cars and trucks.

"A person doesn't use his motorcycle in the winter since the roads are usually bad," Oesterling explained. "He shouldn't be subjected to a winter inspection."

"I can't agree with him," Brainerd said. "We had much Spring-like, almost Summer-like weather this winter so far. I observed the motorcycles out on the highways like flies."

A bill introduced recently by Sen. Clarence D. Bell, R-Delaware, would eliminate the present law requiring use of the directional signal when a motorist changes lanes.

"Look at the Pennsylvania Turnpike," Bell said. "A driver is constantly changing lanes and he could, theoretically, lose his license through points every so many miles if he didn't signal."

Bell added that, in some cases, giving a signal to change lanes could be distracting and contribute to an accident.

Political observers customarily watch with interest how a new governor approaches traffic safety.

The late former Gov. David L. Lawrence, for example, put highway safety high on his priority list. Ex-Gov. Scranton saluted the point system and said flatly he would veto any anti-radar bill.

Gov. Shafer noted in his recent "State of the Commonwealth" message:

"This administration intends to make highway safety a priority second to none. I will ask you to consider legislation aimed at eliminating the drunken driver and at improving the driving skills of everyone who wants a Pennsylvania operator's license by making driver training mandatory."

At 15, This Kid Is Absolute Genius

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Wilczek, at 15, is a quiet scholar who prefers astrophysics to dates. He's one of 40 finalists in the annual Westinghouse Scientific Talent Search.

While most teenagers are having fun on the weekends, Frank is engrossed in astrophysics, mathematics and philosophy. He relaxes by listening to classical records, his favorite pastime.

Once in a while I go to an occasional party," he says. "I'm tied up every Saturday taking courses in mathematics and astrophysics in Columbia University's science honors program."

Frank will be 16 years old on May 11 and a few weeks later will be graduated from Martin Van Buren High School in Queens. He is graduating at such a young age because he skipped the third and eighth grades.

"I hope to attend the University of Chicago and study mathematics and physics," he says. "They both are interesting rather than both being related."

While being a long-hair record collector, Frank doesn't wear his hair long like many young people.

"It's silly," he says, "and it's silly to object, I'm completely indifferent."

The mod style of dress, he says, is "horrible. A fad they are trying to put over."

Frank is 5 feet 7½ inches tall and weighs 150 pounds. His talent search project that will take him into the finals in Washington in March was an attempt to relate semigroups and groups in the field of algebra.

"I got really involved in mathematics," he says, "due to a certain teacher I had in my sophomore year. He got me very interested in it. I really don't know how I picked up philosophy."

Frank says he spends one or two hours on his school work at home each night.

"I do things independently," he says. "I read on my own in mathematics and philosophy. I take up topics I'm interested in."

His father, Frank J. Wilczek, is in the electronics field, in research and development. Frank has one brother, 10.

Philosophizing about his generation of teenagers, Frank says "juvenile delinquents are amoral. They are a very small number."

"In general," he adds, "you can't specify this high school generation as better or worse than any other. The generalization of such a large number of people, I don't think can be valid."

"I think it's excellent that students are finally speaking up on things that concern them, things like the free speech movement. I think it was a very good effort. When it turned to filthy speech, I lost my sympathy for it, but I think the original goals and efforts were fine."

Future Nurses Selling Apples At Warren High

In observance of Dental Health week, members of Warren's Future Nurses Club are selling apples during lunch hours and after school.

Miss Alvera Anderson, school nurse and club advisor, said the sales are "going quite well." The apples are selling better after school, she said.

This week has been a busy one for the FNA girls. They organized a health assembly, scheduled for this morning.

A film will be shown and doctors' wives and members of the Auxiliary Medical Society will be introduced. They are community sponsors of the group.

The assembly will end with short talks from several future nurses, describing the many different areas involved in a medical career.

Saturday at 10 a.m., the club will sponsor a bake sale in the lobby of Levinson Brothers Store.

Beaty Highster Links Today With Odysseus

Some 9th grade students at Beaty Junior High School read a portion of the Odyssey as a class study. Following the class work, the students were given a writing assignment in which comparisons could be made of changing times.

This theme by Bill Lasher asks questions pertinent to the world situation:

"Odysseus was a brave, courageous warrior who sailed to the city of Troy to fight for 10 long years for his country, and for a cause in which he believed."

"If Odysseus would come back today, in this age of moon craft and astronauts, he would find the same thing happening that men were doing in his time. Men sailing in large vessels across waters to fight and die for their country."

"Instead of soldiers going to Troy to save a princess, they travel to Vietnam to save freedom and democracy. Even today, men meet the Trojans and the fears of Odysseus; but today they take the images of Viet Cong. When will our wooden horse come?"

reinstating a 15-year-old youth who was suspended from Haverford High School because of his long hair. The judge suggested the youth have his hair trimmed "in a modest manner."

The youth, David Harris, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., after conferring with his parents and an attorney, told the judge he would not submit to trimming his eyebrow-length hair.

Young Harris was suspended last Jan. 18 from the high school when he refused to heed an order from school principal Dr. Walter J. Hall to have it trimmed.

Timber Bid Goes To Stee Lumber

The Southwest Warren County Municipal Authority accepted the bid of $3260, submitted by the Toney Stee Lumber Company of Garland for cutting of certain timber on the Tidoute watershed. The only other bid was that of Fisher & Young, Titusville, in the amount of $4806.

The meeting Wednesday night was a joint session with Tidoute borough council and both bodies voted unanimously to accept the Stee bid, which was only $240. lower than the sealed estimation submitted by David Anundson, the authority's professional forestry consultant and timber manager.

The Stee bid was accompanied by a certified check for $1,000. This sum and the remainder of the bid price will be invested in certificates of deposit and held until time of retirement of the first bonds issued, approximately five years.

Authority solicitor David Swanson submitted a draft of the service agreement between the authority and its forest manager, David Anundson. Mutually agreed revisions will be incorporated in the contract and submitted at the March meeting for final acceptance by both parties.

Notification was received from the Farmers Home Administration that the authority's application for a 50 per cent grant for construction of a sewage treatment system was not valid because Warren county had been removed from EDA (economically distressed area) in April, 1966.

However, solicitor Swanson, through the Warren County planning office, learned that the removal was not made until July 1, 1966, much later than the date of the application's submission. The federal agency is presently without funds for such grants but the loan portion of the application has been approved.

The authority noted that application for a federal loan for planning purposes had been submitted Feb. 7, 1967. The authority also is proceeding with applications for sewage grants through other federal agencies.

The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Bernard King, who reminded members that the World Banks are to be turned in at the March meeting. An announcement was made concerning a Kere District missionary meeting which will be held Friday, Feb. 17, at 1 p.m. at the Mt. Jewett Methodist Church. Mr. John Lundy will be guest speaker. Circle One of the Methodist WSCS canceled its meeting scheduled for Wednesday and the date of the next meeting will be announced.

Tidoute School Activities

Fourth graders are learning the proper techniques in the use of the telephone. The Bell Telephone Company has installed four battery-operated phone sets plus posters and teaching literature.

Mr. Wesley Yost, Bell Telephone project engineer, was guest speaker at two assemblies held Wednesday. He provided the narration for a collection of 38 slides depicting modern and historical scenes on Pennsylvania.

C. L. McMillen, district manager of Pennsylvania Electric Company, was a guest this week also and presented a large framed portrait of Thomas Alva Edison to Harold Guthrie, principal. The portrait is a permanent gift from Penelec and will serve as a reminder of the electrical genius whose inventions have so drastically altered and advanced the American standard of living and been responsible for the industrial and scientific progress of our nation.

An interesting assembly was enjoyed last week when a program was presented under the auspices of the Antrim Assembly Bureau. Chief Warbonnet was the speaker and his talk on Indian life and customs evoked interested questions from the students. A collection of Indian articles and artifacts was displayed.

Elementary health classes are observing Heart Month through the cooperation of the Warren County Heart Association. Audio-visual materials have been provided by the association and are being used in classroom teaching.

Enthusiasm and increased interest in spelling are being generated by the spelling bee contest in which sixth graders are participating. Sponsored by the Erie Times-Mirror and Observer, the contest is being conducted in 20 county elementary schools.

Tidoute sixth graders will compete later in the month with Plank Road pupils and the winners will go to Erie for a television show.

From Our Corner

By LENORE MCINTYRE TIMBER!!!

The first bid has been awarded for cutting of timber on the watershed which comprises a considerable chunk of the assets of the former Tidoute Water Company, recently acquired by the Southwest Warren County Municipal Authority and now being operated as a public utility by Tidoute borough.

Least there may be some lifting of eyebrows and questioning of this procedure it should be understood by everyone that this is a logical step to take in order to realize the greatest revenue potential possible from the timberlands. After all, it is timber revenue which will pay off the bond issue. The bulk of income from water rentals will cover operation and maintenance of the water system.

This first cutting is small, both in quantity of board feet and in sale price. Some may think that the bid was quite low but a perusal of the facts indicates otherwise.

In the first place, the authority has engaged the services of a professional forester who will manage the watershed timber to its best advantage. This means utilizing technical and scientific techniques to promote the ultimate in growth, harvest, and revenue.

The initial cutting will be confined to a relatively small tract, thinning where advisable to remove culls and poor grade timber. This will promote growth of the quality timber and a selective cutting for marketing purposes should be feasible in four or five years.

Other such thinning operations will no doubt be carried on in other parts of the watershed during the next couple years in order to promote maximum growth and quality. When necessary, selective cuttings will be made providing the market is favorable.

Those familiar with the lumber market are aware that conditions are not very favorable right now. Building starts dropped last fall, because of the tightening of money for lending purposes and the higher interest rates, and construction is only now beginning a slow upward creep.

But market conditions have little effect on the selling of this first cutting since there is little quality timber involved. The main purpose of the cutting is to promote growth of the standing marketable trees.

It might be compared to the thinning of your flower or vegetable garden; you remove the weeds and even some of the plants in order to harvest a bigger and better crop.

VFW Contest For Tidoute Youth

The Ladies Auxiliary of Post 8803 VFW is participating locally in the national program of the Auxiliary called "Young America Speaks and Acts."

The national awards are quite attractive. The first award is a $1000 scholarship and gold medal; 2nd award is a $500 scholarship and gold medal; and the third award is a $250 scholarship and gold medal. There are honorable mention citations for the next 10 winners.

The local auxiliary is offering a $25 U. S. Savings Bond to the first place winner in the local contest, in addition to awards for second and third places.

The contest is open to any student in Tidoute high school in grades nine through twelve. Seniors may obtain entry blanks from Kathy Benner, juniors from Ed Ziegler, sophomores from Ronny Miles, and freshmen from Karyl Morrison.

The local auxiliary is hopeful that a large number of students will participate in this worthwhile contest.

Board Will File Appeal High Court

SMETHPORT — The Smethport Area School Board of Education will ask the Pennsylvania Supreme Court to overrule the appointment made by the McKean County Court to fill a vacancy on the board.

The county court had named Mrs. Donna Jean Westlund, claiming the choice made by the school board, Dr. Conrad Michelson, was too late. In his opinion, Judge Glenn E. Mencer said the school code clearly states that the court may make the appointment based on a public petition. If the school board fails to do so within 30 days after the vacancy arises.

The board named Dr. Michelson more than two months after the resignation of Fred Willardson last summer. Dr. Michelson has been elected to the board prior to the state-mandated reorganization cutting the membership down to nine last July 1. The school board said it had contacted Dr. Michelson at that time but he had hesitated to accept because of other commitments. When he finally was in a position to accept, and was sworn in, more than two months had elapsed since Mr. Willardson's resignation.

Meanwhile a citizens committee petitioned the county court on behalf of Mrs. Westlund and she won the favorable nod of Judge Mencer in November and received the oath. Then the board asked Judge Mencer to vacate his appointment of Mrs. Westlund. However, a week ago, Judge Mencer, upheld the legality of his ruling.

Found Guilty Tax Evasion

ERIE—William P. Johnson Jr., 45, a partner in the architectural engineering firm of Johnson, Horrigan and Valle of Erie, was sentenced to a 45-day jail term and fined $1500 after being convicted in federal court of failing to file income tax returns for the years, 1960, 1961 and 1962.

Sentence was pronounced by Judge Joseph P. Willson following a non-jury trial. Thomas A. Daley, assistant U.S. attorney, said Johnson owed $14,000 in taxes on an income of $65,725 for the three year period.

Little Cooley Home Is Gutted

MEADVILLE—Fire wrecked the two-story frame home of Mrs. Harold Wilcox and family at Little Cooley at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Centerville, Townville and Blooming Valley fire companies responded to the alarm but were unable to save the building. Firemen did carry out some household goods.

Assistant Fire Chief Richard Heister of Centerville Volunteer Fire Department said the cause of the blaze has not been definitely determined but the flames were first sighted around a chimney. The house was so badly gutted, he said, it will have to be torn down. The extreme cold hampered firemen, who pumped water from a nearby stream in an attempt to check the flames.

Crime Rate Jumps

ERIE — Erie's crime rate jumped about 6.8 per cent in 1966 over the previous year. The increase occurred almost entirely in burglary.

U.S. Department of Agriculture to cut service payments to co-operators "the most serious blow to dairy farmers in 30 years."

Donald Gruber, president of the Bear Lake Cooperative Milk Producers, made the statement in regard to the proposed decision released by the USDA on January 19. The proposal came as the result of a hearing in July and August of 1965.

Gruber said that the decision to cut payments to co-operators by more than 50 percent would "work an undue hardship on not only dairy farmers' co-operators but all individual dairy farmers."

He said that while he was glad the decision did reaffirm the principle of cooperative payments he was shocked at the recommendation to slash payments. He said that this proposal was entirely unrealistic as to the cost involved.

Gruber said our cooperative plans to lodge the strongest possible objection to this decision in the hopes that Secretary Freeman will take action on our behalf.

He said he hoped that when Secretary Freeman acquainted himself with the facts and the impact of the decision on dairy farmers he would make the proper modifications.

Night Patrols, Vigilance End Camp Burglaries

Cooperation of residents of the area and an expanded night patrol program have cut sharply into raids on camps in the Cooks Forest area, according to Chief of Police Norman Heasley of Farmington and Washington Townships of Clarion County.

Heasley, commenting on reports of 30 camp burglaries in Forest and eight in Clarion County, reported his area had escaped the raiding parties. Heasley credited the cooperation of residents in reporting any strange cars or persons about camps, plus a stepped-up night patrol, for bringing an end to the camp ransacking which has been prevalent in other years.

"Prior to this present off camping season," said Chief Heasley, "we were having our share of burglaries. During the past two years, area citizens have been cooperative with our policing department and they caught three adults still in a camp that had been broken into."

"In another case," said Chief Heasley, "citizens got reports to us 'on the spot' of two juveniles breaking into a camp. We want these people to know we appreciate this cooperation."

PLAN OPENING IN APRIL

Construction of the new Lawn and Garden Center on Route 6 east is in the finishing stages and it is expected that the modern new shop will be ready for opening in April, in plenty of time for the 1967 gardening season. The firm, in the meantime, is open for business in the adjoining structure which was used for a warehouse. The new center is replete with basement and will provide expanded space for the large stock of agricultural and garden supplies carried by the firm. (Photo by Mansfield)
